The Big Chiefs' Helpers

To assist our superintendent, principal, and dean, we have two bodies which deserve merit for their support and guidance. The first of these is the Board of Trustees whose duty it is to help Mr. Abbott solve his financial worries and make wise decisions on problems that need the advice of more than one man.

Left to Right: Mrs. Wilhelmine Wilder, clerk; Mrs. Charles Goering; Dr. V. H. Hilgemann, treasurer; B. F. Geyer, president; Merle J. Abbott, superintendent of schools; W. T. McKay; William Shambaugh, secretary; C. J. Carlson, supervisor of buildings and grounds.

The second is the P-TA consisting of parents and teachers that are always willing to give financial aid and moral support to every endeavor. It serves as a link between the school and the parents and is the school's best interpreter. It was founded with the idea in mind of promoting the general welfare of the youth of North Side, and in that endeavor is succeeding.

Row Two, Left to Right: Mrs. George Grimm, publications; Mrs. G. F. Golden, ways and means; Mrs. Foster Waggoner, music; Mrs. Verne Tobias, study club; Bob Young, student representative; Mrs. Doster Buckner, program; Mrs. C. A. Edgar, press; Mrs. O. A. Dellinger, home room representative; Mrs. Edwin Wyneken, publications; Eileen Worden, student representative; Mrs. J. C. VandenBerg, membership; Mrs. Harry Royse, social.

The Head of a Large Procession

Smiling from his work is chief of staff, Supt. Merle J. Abbett.

Our superintendent proudly displays his day's catch.

Having to solve all the problems of the Fort Wayne public school system, Mr. Abbett, Superintendent of Schools, carries on an endless task. Regardless of this fact, he is always glad to stop and talk over problems with anyone who cares to come to see him. Every day he is confronted with the personal problems of many of the citizens of Fort Wayne. Since this requires a great deal of his strength, he, too, must rest. Therefore, vacation time finds him, fishing pole in hand, waiting to land the big ones.

Pop Gives Us Courage and Conviction

"Pop" Northrop converses with his secretary, Miss Mary E. Steiner, and Bob Young, Student Council president, on the front steps.

Yes, our principal gives us courage and conviction. Courage to carry out an idea that someone else has laughed at, and conviction to carry on to the right end. Not only does he have a smile for everyone, but also he performs cheerfully all the other tasks his position requires. But regardless of the important matters which keep him constantly busy, he still has time to converse with his secretary and Bob Young, student body head, or to engage in a hobby, as the pictures portray.

Photography and fishing are Mr. Northrop's hobbies. We snapped this just as he was about to take a picture.

She Helps to Keep Us Smiling

Miss Victoria Gross, dean, checks over the school schedule of events while Bob Cowan and Margaret Adams look over her shoulder.

For comfort and guidance one will always find Miss Gross, dean of girls, just the right person to see. She is always ready to help one over the bumps and trials of life. Even though she is one of the busiest persons at North Side, she, too, as one can see, finds time from her work to enjoy a pleasant conversation or to examine a road map and make plans for some journey that she will take during her summer vacation.

A road map is a familiar companion of our dean, whose chief hobby is traveling.

THE STURDY PILLARS OF YOUTH'S COURAGE

THE PATH OF AN ENDLESS PARADE OF YOUTH

The courage of youth will never be extinguished as long as the light of education is kept burning here in our democracy. North Side can be ranked among the top in the list of schools that is helping youth to prepare for the future. These pictures show some views of the building in which we work and play.

Our "Alma Mater" at night.

"Old Glory", long may she wave representing peace and freedom and giving courage to the youth of every nation.

Sturdy columns crowned with a great name.

Relaxing on the front steps, while waiting for the 1:05 bell.

Sh! Keep the halls quiet. A familiar scene in any corridor throughout the building. Catherine Schlatter, Alice Carlson, Joan Nieter, Ann Naus, Jeanne Tobias, Bertha Coudret, Bob Richard, Margaret Foster, John Rousseau, and Frances McGahey are typical pupils.

Years Gone -- Memories Remain

By MARGARET ADAMS

Four long years have passed. Long years made short by the multitude of events crowded into them—basketball games, football games, track meets, skating parties, and dances. Years filled with study and hard work, too. There have been gay moments, carefree moments, and, yes, sad moments, too. These have been years in which we have stored up memories for the future.

The best of these years has been the last—our senior year. For during it, we have been the leaders of the school, and we have had leaders among us also. Robert Cowan, acting as president, has skillfully guided our way. He was ably assisted by Robert Young, vice-president. Our finances were looked after and our activities recorded by our secretary-treasurer, Marilyn Whiteley. Byron Popp as social chairman insured the success of our activities by his careful planning. Underclassmen have looked to us for advice and guidance. We, in turn, have looked to our class advisers, Miss Katharine Rothenberger and Mr. Rollo Mosher, for counsel and aid.

This has been a year filled with activity. We have been called a class of champions, for some of our members have excelled in scholarship, some in athletics, some in journalism, and some in speech. Therefore, it was only natural that our first get-together had as its theme another group renowned for excellence in all fields, the ancient Greeks and their gods and heroes. That was our Senior Banquet which was given on January 23. Then, on the night of February 22, we witnessed the trials and tribulations of youthful love expertly portrayed by members of our class in our Senior Play entitled "Young April".

From June 2 to 6, we celebrated Senior Week. On Tuesday, we regained all of our senior dignity, for we wore our stately caps and gowns. The week ended with our commencement dance on June 7. On Sunday came Baccalaureate services and then on Tuesday, June 10, our dreams came true. For on this day, we received our diplomas, our reward for having completed four years of study.

IN MEMORY OF A CLASSMATE AND PAL

Donald Ross, classmate and pal,
You who left us in bright youth,
In the spacious school of God
Do you garner all the truth?

You who loved our common plants,
Do you love the asphodels?
Do your fond eyes softly smile
Where the music of Heaven swells?

Does your right hand now caress
Some bright Heaven-wrought holy tool?
Donald Ross, classmate and pal,
Classmate in a better school!

Riding two on a bike are former publishers of The Northerner, Art Aiken and Virginia Vandenberg. Art is also the president of the National Honor Society, while Ginny is the secretary of the Student Council. About to enter the building is Chuck Collins, actor and Booster member. On the bridge are varsity football and basketball men Byron Popp and Bob Young (because of the sun) are Ginny Groth, president of National Forensic, and Marilyn Whiteley, radio is Bob Cowan, president of his class and North Side's best all around athlete. Frowning (because of the sun) are Ginny Groth, president of National Forensic, and Marilyn Whitely, secretary-treasurer of the Senior class. Under the tree, Joy Ellen Stahn and Marge Fellows, outstanding Northerner and speech members. Joy is also president of Booster. Varsity football and basketball occupy this boy's time. That's right, it's Jim Harrison. Whee! What a car. Sitting on this streamlined perfection is Cornie Ervin, another football and basketball star.

Underclassmen

THE LEGEND 1941

Row Two: Dave Saylor, secretary-treasurer; Mr. Laney, adviser; Tom Neff, president.

Captains of the Ranks

What would any army do without leaders? Likewise, what would the junior class do without Tom Neff, as president; Jim Hinga as vice-president; Dave Saylor, as secretary-treasurer; and Russell Cook as social chairman? Probably just wouldn't.

Then there is the point, what would the class officers do without the excellent advice from the faculty advisers, Miss Judith Bowen and Mr. Loy Laney? Without Miss Bowen's ideas and Mr. Laney's wit, we would really be forsaken. These commendable leaders have tried their very utmost to obtain the best from the class as a whole.

Through the leadership of officers and advisers, "Flamingo Fantasy" turned out to be one of the best proms ever.

Junior home room, 220, Mr. Herring's, had the highest per cent among the juniors last fall. The members of this room are Wynoma Faust, Stuart Fisher, Margaret Foster, Helen Franke, Bernard Frankenstein, Helen Martha Garrard, Elizabeth Lenore Gee, Roland Givens, Joan Gladbach, Donna Goheen, Betty Gray, Ned Greulach, Albert Gunkler, Charles Halter, Doris Harford, Eileen Hartzell, Patricia Hattendorf, Richard Hensler, Robert Heyman, Betty Lou Hilpert, John Hinga, Ellis Hite, Phyllis Holle, Edward Hughes, Patricia Igoe, Charles Jacot, Max Jenkins, Guy Kaiser, Sterling Keyser, Neoma Klaehn, Marijane Long, and Margie Rall.

The junior class wishes to thank its class officers, faculty advisers, and everyone else who has helped push our third year over the top. We shall try our very best not to disappoint anyone next year.

We'll Man the Guns Next Year

By BETTYRUTH WHITE
And NORMA CURDES

Having passed through the ups and downs of our first two years into the "glorious upper-classman stage", we now look forward to what is supposedly the happiest year of a student's life, his senior year. By this time next year we shall probably verify this statement in a dignified senior manner.

Whether or not our class has achieved the highest scholastic standing is not known. One thing certain is our indomitable spirit, without which anyone is lost. This spirit has been displayed in many different ways.

It is shown by the generally intelligent attention to our school work. It was loyally displayed by the participation of many in the various extra-curricular activities offered them. We are proud of the fact that almost every junior can be credited with good sportsmanship.

As "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy", we do not cherish the idea of ever having to be sharpened. With this thought in mind we called upon Russell Cook to provide some unusual entertainment.

On April 26, Russell, ably assisted by many co-operative juniors, carried out the "Flamingo Fantasy", our "traditional" junior prom. The decorations were in accordance with the beautiful and elaborate theme of the dance.

Row Nine: Vernon Caley, Russell Cook, Bertha Coudret, Helen Crago, Billie Mae Crooks.

Chapter one of Mr. Carnegie's book is entitled "The Booster Club", in which these juniors are listed: Marian Brudi, Jane Evans, Betty Gray, Paige Harper, Barbara Hopper, Norman Krieg, Barbara Morton, Irvin Schecter, Jean Stiffler, Jean Woebbeking, Bertha Coudret, Joan Forsythe, Mary Jane Gregg, Pat Hattendorf, Marianne Joss, Maxine Kroemer, Olive Mulqueeney, Felice Smith, Janet Van Auken, Don Wolf, Norma Curdes, Margaret Foster, Rosanna Hall, Betty Lou Hilpert, Mark Keefer, Rosemary Kryder, Paul Nieter, Mildred Smith, Connie Vunora, Lucille Edsall, Helen Franke, Phyllis Hardy, Virginia Hofer, James Kirke, Martha Mathews, David Saylor, Juanita Stark, and Bettyruth White.

Chapter II involves Mr. Chance's able musicians, without whom no pleasure is complete. Included are Dick Carmer, Robert Comparet, Marian Davies, Harvey Diehl, Adella Dunten, Robert Eldridge, Jean Gladbach, June Goldsmith, Kenneth Holcomb, Evelyn Pennington, Jean Perry, Jean Tobias, Dean Vose, and Jim Whitehurst.

Library Club appealed to Bertha Coudret, Patricia Igoe, Waneta Krieg, Martha Mathews, and Juanita Werling.

These ladies are going to be sure they never lose an argument for they belong to the G.A.A.: Jane Brown, Bertha Coudret, Ardenell Cowan, Charlotte Drewett, Adella Dunten, Armina Eby, Lucille Edsall, Joan Forsythe, Audrey Fox, Flora Gaff, Martha Garrard, Lenore Gee, Ruth Gocke, Janice Grubb, Rosanna Hall, Bonnie Herrman, Phyllis Hugo, Patricia Igoe, Donna Irmscher, Dorothea Lagerstrom, Thelma Lange, Phyllis Lepper, Ruth McComb, Barbara Mansfield, Martha Miller, Jeanne Nichols, Nata Prince, Betty Puff, Jean Schaffhauser, Ruth Schuelke, Helen Schwartz, Imogene Stephan, Rosella Silk, Virginia Skelly, Mildred Smith, Jean Stiffler, Jean Tumbleson, Jane T. VanAuken, Arlene Van Meter, and Neoma Wise.

If you feel rather mean and ugly, just allow these members of the A Cappella Choir to sooth your ruffled feathers, Mary Euphrat, Betty Hedden, Betty Lou Hilpert, Kenneth Holcomb, Patricia Igoe, Guy Kaiser, Maxine Kroemer, Waneta Krieg, Doris McComb, Priscilla Lambert, Wayne Meek, Evelyn Pennington, Jean Perry, Patricia Saurbaugh, Jeanne Schaffhauser, and Dale White.

Dale advises joining the Home Ec Club if you want to win "Him". Billie Crooks, Betty Hedden, and June Goldsmith took his advice.

If one gets a little mixed up on Mr. Carnegie's instructions, he can always depend on these people, the members of the Red Cross, Joan Buesching, Donna Goheen, Betty Gray, Phyllis Holle, Harriet Knapp, Louise Lotter, Doris McComb, Drexel McKinney, Elaine Mesing, Barbara Morton, Clementine Mueller, Donna Schory, Marilyn Vachon, Marian Wirick, and Neoma Wise.

According to Mr. Carnegie, people who enjoy the finer arts of life are less apt to be involved in arguments. No bickering from you Art Clubbers, who are Hilda Blaugh, Elaine Crosby, Betty Puff, Frank Schick, Connie Vunora, Dale White, Marian Wirick, and Jim Whitehurst.

For those charming first impressions the 400 Club is just the thing. Members include Lois Decker, Mary Draggoo, Audrey Fox, Bettv Hedden, Harriet Knapp, Bernice Krauskopf, Thelma Lange, Phyllis Lepper, Mary Alice Pressler, Shirley Stultz, Evelyn Thomas, Maxine Wells, Juanita Werling, Dale White, and Sylvia Wolfe.

If you want to understand people why not study nature first? These Nature Club members do—Reese Brandt, Adella Dunten, Pat Hattendorf, Phyllis Holle, Sterling Keyser, Frank Schick, Bill Sivits, Arthur Voelker, and Dale White.

Mr. Carnegie has a hard time keeping up with the widespread opinions of the Northerner staff. Junior class members are Joan Buesching, Nancy Buckels, Bertha Coudret, Bob Douglass, Larry Eberbach, Jane Evans, Margaret Foster, Helen Franke, Bernard Frankenstein, Paige Harper, Pat Hattendorf, Betty Lou Hilpert, Virginia Hofer, Mark Keefer, Dorothea Lagerstrom, Martha Miller, Barbara Morton, John Rousseau, Irvin Schecter, Jean Stiffler, Jeanne Tobias, Jim Walker, Eileen Worden, and Harvey Zumbro.

In Chapter III the Student Council voices its opinion on the Alma Mater's turmoil. Members include Donna Claphan, Harvey Diehl, Paige Harper, Betty Lou Hilpert, Bernice Krauskopf, Drexel McKinney, Martha Miller, David Saylor, Jean Stiffler, Arthur Voelker, and Harvey Zumbro.

Mr. Carnegie suggests that in order to make a "snap" of life join the Camera Club. These did, Patsy Bañe, David Bourke, Ralph Cobb, Marjorie Fowler, Bob Heyman, Walter Hobbs, Maxine Orr, Helen Pappas, and Jean Tumbleson.

Those men who would like to enjoy a Hi-Y stag party should drop in at one of their meetings and join as did Robert Boulton, Jack Mor-

The large representation of juniors in Helicon Club assured its success with membership including Nancy Buckels, Joseph Buscaglia, Donna Claphan, Larry Eberbach, Mary Euphrat, Janice Grubb, Pat Hattendorf, Dick Hensler, Virginia Hofer, James Kirke, Bernice Krauskopf, Rosemary Kryder, Ralph Leighty, Ruth McComb, Wayne Meek, Olive Mulqueeney, Evelyn Pennington, Jean Perry, Jack Roberts, John Rousseau, Jack Sheak, Frank Schick, Bill Sivits, Marilyn Vachon, Arthur Voelker, Miriam Waller, Bob Winfield, Eileen Worden, Norma Young, and Harvey Zumbro.

If someone decides to "blow up", just ask the advice of a Phy-Chem member what to do. Suggestions can come from Gloria Baumgartner, Robert Comparat, Adella Dunten, Bernard Frankenstein, Phyllis Hardy, Bob Heyman, Ed Hughes, Patricia Igoe, and Sterling Keyser.

Mr. Carnegie looks with pride on the lettermen, for they show excellent ability, both physically and mentally. These modern Atlases are Dick Becker, Albert Gunkler, Jim Hinga, Wayne Meek, David Saylor, Kay Short, Bill Smiley, Donald Swager, John Walborn.

To the able speakers of N.F.L., Mr. Carnegie can offer nothing. They are Joan Buesching, Russell Cook, Lucille Edsall, Jane Evans, Jean Grimm, Donald Swager, Miriam Waller, Jim Whitehurst, and Eileen Worden.

Sitting on the river bank are track man Harry Hill and Donna Claphan. These smiling members of the Junior Class are Dan Benninghoff and Barbara Hopper. Dan is an important member of the speech department. President Tom Neff rests on the front steps. Riding on the running board is Norma Curdes, Junior editor of The Legend. With that familiar smile, Ginny Hofer, an active Legend agent. Who's holding what up? Russell Cook, social chairman and the star Junior speaker, leans on Mike "Zontini" Bojinoff, varsity football and track man. Together again, Jim Hinga, vice-president and varsity football, basketball, and track man, and Jane Evans, next year's publisher of The Northerner. In complete repose, Secretary-treasurer Dave Saylor.

Row One: Lois Poorman, secretary-treasurer; Miss Spiegel, adviser; Mr. Michaud, adviser.

Our Year's Memorandum

To every diary belongs a special memorandum; therefore, the class of '43 wishes to dedicate its memorandum to our advisers and officers who have guided us through this, our in-between period, known as the tenth grade. Miss Margaret Spiegel and Mr. Howard Michaud were the beacon lights; and Carl Moring, Kenny Oetting, Lois Poorman, and Gordon Smitley were the guiding stars.

The scholastic record was made by Room 316, which includes Mary Alice Baysinger, Tom Biggs, Artista Blaugh, Neal Fogel, Ned Follis, James Francis, Julia Fryer, Albert Gross, Frank Harlor, Charles Hedges, Ralph Hess, Paul Hessert, Richard Hiatt, Clem Hiser, Patricia Hunt.

Not a Secret - Just Our Diary

By ANN NAUS AND
CHARLOTTE HAMPSHIRE

September 20, 1940
Dear Diary,

Even if school did start late this year, the Sophomores dashed into their home rooms full of pep and eager to make this the best year that Sophomores have ever had. With Miss Margaret Spiegel and Mr. Howard Michaud as our faculty advisers and Carl Moring as our worthy president, assisted by Kenneth Oetting, vice-president, Lois Poorman, secretary-treasurer, and Gordon Smitley, social chairman, the old Redskin wigwam is going to vibrate with the activity of the class of '43. These, our student council members, are even experienced and just bursting with good leadership: George Brown, Betty Lou Bruick, Dorothy Chandler, Wanda Crouse, Rosamond Denner, Helen Dye, Donna Ellert, Norma Harper, Thais Mentzer, Lois Poorman, Maxine Richard, Gordon Smitley, Carl Suedhoff, and Faith Wall.

Dear Diary,

I was talking to Dorothy Chandler, Sophomore representative to G.A.A., today about the clubs here at North Side. It's surprising to know how many sophomore girls are going out for athletics. The girls who are in G.A.A. are Martha Alexander, Lorraine Anderson, Joan Bates, Alta Beeching, Phyllis Bender, Dorothy Chandler, Dorothy Doehrman, Gloria Fisher, Ruth Driver, Charlotte Hampshire, Norma Harper, Virginia Haskins, Phyllis Hattersley, Betty Heck, Bonnie Herrman, Phyllis Houser, Ruth Kloer, Nila Koeneman, Thais Mentzer, Lois Poorman, Mildred Rathert, Maxine Rich-

Row One: Martha Alexander, Lorraine Anderson, Beatrice Ormerod, Bette Armstrong, Madonna Armstrong.

Dear Diary,

North Siders are a fortunate lot. Realizing this, we helped the Junior Red Cross make up several Christmas baskets for those who are less fortunate than we are. '43 classmates who helped in this are Wilma Arnold, Rosamond Denner, Norma Faux, Patricia Lynch, Jean Nuttle, Marian Schaaf, Faith Wall, and Fairy Wall.

Dear Diary,

Everyone went home from the Sophomore Party saying "Didn't we have fun and wasn't Georgiana Jones' band a success?"

General chairman of the affair was Gordon Smitley. Assisting him was Dick Curdes, with Ann Naus, Helen Dye, Nila Koeneman, Caroline Waterfall, and Bob Kaufman. Lois Poorman was chairman of the decoration committee, assisted by Joan Nieter, Thais Mentzer, Dave Kievit, Bob Renner, Ann Naus, and Charlotte Hampshire. Barbara Boone was chairman of the refreshment committee, assisted by Maxine Richard, Wanda Coil, Carl Suedhoff, Elizabeth Tone, and Tom Johnson. Music was arranged for by Gordon Smitley, Dorothy Doehrman, George Fruechtenicht, Marilyn Barnhill, and Bob Leonard. Max Peckhart was chairman of the publicity committee. His assistants were Pat Hunt, Phyllis Bender, and Phyllis Rabus.

Chairman of the check room committee was Bob Dellinger. Assisting him were Thurl Ulrey, Kenny Winner, Tom Seaney, Kenny Oetting, and Don Koenig.

The Home Ec Club girls are sporting the niftiest outfits these days. They are just the thing for these pre-holiday parties. Girls of our class who are in the club are Mary Baysinger, Betty Bussing, Helen Sievers, and Phyllis Volmerding.

Dear Diary,

Row Three: Thais Mentzer, Marjorie Meyers, John Miller, LaVon Miller, Marjorie Moorhead.

Row Four: Alice Moots, Carl Moring, Dorsey Moss, Doris Munson, Janos Murray.

Row Five: Ann Naus, Joan Nieter, Charles Newcomb, Shirley Newman, Alfred Novitsky.

Legend workers are Charlotte Hampshire, Hazen Keyser, Ann Naus, and Gayle Scott.

As a reward for their hard labors these persons were admitted into the 1500 Club: Tom Burgoon, Dick Curdes, Allen Kwatnez, Ann Naus, Joan Nieter, Catherine Schlatter, and Bob Thornhill.

April 18, 1941

Dear Diary,

This is Get Acquainted week and all the North Siders are doing their best to make it a success. Those who have joined Geography Council in order to become better acquainted are Betty Armstrong, Donald Bidwell, Alicejane Blombach, Helen Dye, Marilyn Harries, Germaine Rodenbeck, and Richard Sieling.

Such a show of courtesy has never before been seen around North Side. Many Sophomores who want to act courteously all year 'round are Louise Buchanan, Eleanor Byers, Patricia Frye, Virginia Haskins, Betty Heck, Dick Mong, Jean Nuttle, Peggy Sickafoose, Virginia Silk, Dorothy Spangle, Ned Thompson, Catherine Weaver, Dorothy Wilson, Mary Jane Woodring, and Virginia Yount.

One of the outstanding events of the year is the Senior class play given by the S.P.C. members directed by Miss Margery Suter. Many Sophomores, loyal to the stage, who may be future Barrymores and Lawrences are Patsy Cunningham, George Fruechtenicht, Eugene Engle, James Gooley, Albert Gross, Charlotte Hampshire, Norma Harper, Phyllis Hattersley, Patricia Hiser, Phyllis Houser, Patricia Hunt, Jean Irving, Bernard Kramer, Esther McComb, Doris Munson, Janos Murray, Ann Naus, Alfred Novitsky, Ruth Schleuder, Don Snouffer, and Kenny Winner.

Leaders of the Green

The class of 1944 has chosen for their leaders four prominent students to guide them through their freshman year. Heading these leaders was Dave Benninghoff, president, with Jack Neff, vice-president; Jim Tetlow, secretary-treasurer; and Jim Field, social chairman, assisting him.

Supervising these officers were Miss Alice Piersol and Mr. Varner Chance, the class advisers. We have all appreciated the help given us by our hard working advisers.

The freshman home room that led our class in scholastic rating was Room 116, Mr. Ivy's. The members of this room are as follows: Alice Smith, June Snyder, Betty Spaulding, Edward Sperr, Frank Staley, Corinne Stark, David Stewart, Patricia Stilwell, Richard Stonebreaker, Dorothy Struver, Carol Tapp, Don Taylor, June Taylor, James Tellman, Harold Thomas, Doris Thornhill.

James Tinker, Joan Tinker, Ray Tinkle, Bud Tonkel, Ruth Tonkel, Donald Trebra, Barbara Trim, Eberly VanWey, Clifford Voelker, Maurice Vose, Jack Waggoner, Elmo Walker, Dorcas Wallace, Gratia Warner, Lois Wass, H. Paul Wehnert, and Richard Werling.

We could write about the class of '44 indefinitely, naming the students and the activities in which they have participated, but in our story we tried to present a preview of our class, the class of '44 which we hope will be North Side's greatest.

We have had many good times throughout the year. The Freshman party was a great success. Although we have had to take a great deal of razzing from the upperclassmen, we almost view with envy the incoming freshmen that have not yet experienced the fun that we have had.

It's Alden, the boy with the hair on his head, "Duke"

Fresh as Paint— Twice as Green

By VIRGINIA MCGAHEY AND JIM FIELD

That's what the seniors thought of us when we first entered North Side, but we were never really quite that bad. For the most part, we have worked hard and have tried to be loyal to our school, so that we too could be grownup, dignified seniors some day.

We have felt certain, as has every other freshman class, that ours was the best. This was mostly because of our wonderful leadership. By the kind and beneficial guidance of our class advisers, Miss Alice Piersol and Mr. Varner M. Chance, we have known the difference between right and wrong. Dave Benninghoff, our class president, with the aid of Jack Neff, vice-president; Jim Tetlow, secretary-treasurer; and Jim Field, social chairman, has steered our class through the year with flying colors.

The future stars of North Side's basketball, football, and track teams can easily be seen because so many freshman boys are interested in sports. They are Louis Andrews, Bill Andrews, Dick Arick, Bob Baltzer, Fred Biggs, Marvin Bogard, Milton Brooks, Tom Borkenstein, Ray Bowsman, Bob Braun, Bill Brown, Dean Brown, Herman Buesching, John Byers, Philip Canfield, Bob Cashdollar, Ray Chrzan, Dick Church, Al Coplen, Bill Cunningham, Tom Deitschel, Jim Downing, Ken Erb, Bill Ferguson.

Doris Thornhill, Donna Tibbetts, Barbara Trim, Nadine Waggoner, Marjorie Warner, Mary Whinery, Beverly Wiegman, Dorothy Winje, Loretta Worden, and Rosemary Wyss.

The freshman twirlers who entertained the spectators at the different events are Phyllis Alleger, Lila Lee Childers, Beverly Crowell, Betty Davies, Lorraine Fritz, Martha Hughes, Phyllis Krumbigel, and Betty Mitchell.

Many freshmen used their vocal chords to a good advantage in speech work (the Junior Forensic League). They are Delbert Auman, David Benninghoff, Nancy Bobilya, Charlotte Buesching, Alice Carlson, Sally Cruse, Norma Day, Tom Deitschel, Martha Dole, Helen Ehinger, Mary Ann Erhardt, Virginia Erne, Barbara Eversole, Jim Field, Joan McClain, Virginia McGahey, Mary Louise Moore, Jack Neff, Jean Nichols, Carl Penningroth, Lois Reinking, Donna Rolfes, Ruth Ann Royse, Bill Sandwick, Jim Sandwick, Nancy Saylor, Sheila Schomp, Norma Self, Eugene Shambaugh, Doris Thornhill, and Loretta Worden.

The music department seems to have interested quite a few of the freshmen. They have become members of A Cappella, Training Choir, chorus classes, band, and orchestra. They are Suzanne Buckner, Lila Lee Childers, Jim Whonsetler, Sheila Schomp, Virginia McGahey, Martha Hughes, Arleen Koehlinger, Connie Conklin, Carrol Koch, Priscilla Fortmeyer, Doris McAdams, Don Longworth, Bill Luhman, Martha Dole, Thelma McCoy, Marion Nelson, Dick Mommer, Dick Nichols, Ilene Rabbitt, Gloria Reed, Jeanne Rhoades, Virginia Robinson, Nancy Saylor, Norma Self, Devona Sherwood, Corinne Stark, Dorothy Struver, Leland Berning, Jim Tinker, Joan Tinker, Ray Tinkle, Maurice Vose, Mary Williamson, Paul Wehnert, Dick Werling, Katheryn Zelt, Robert Ziegler, Lois Biggs, and Dorothy Boehm.

Helping govern the student body is the task of the freshman student council members. They are Louis Andrews, Herman Buesching, James Field, Robert Gamrath, Boyce Lambert, Dick Nichols, Lois Reinking, Norma Jean Self, Harold Thomas, Loretta Worden, and Bill Brown.

Many boys of this class have become members of Hi-Y. They are Don Leininger, Leland Berning, Edward Blair, Joe Parker, Keith Ross, Robert Welklin, Philip Canfield, Dick Han-num, and Bill Ferguson.

Quite a number of girls in our class have joined Polar-Y. They are Kathleen Baker, Phyllis Clark, Pat Carroll, Connie Conklin, Lois Buelow, Bernice Wilson, Loretta Worden, Nadine Waggoner, Marjorie Warner, Maxine Waggoner, Joan Stilwell, Margaret Schaaf, and Audrey Plummer.

As we have already stated, many girls are interested in sports and a number of them have earned the points required to become members of G.A.A. Eleanor Cantrell, one of the members, won the freshman division of the tennis tournament. Other members are Jeanne McGill, Gertrude Linnemeier, Martha Hughes, Beverly Crowell, Lila Lee Childers, Dorothy Winje, and Donna Tibbetts.

Soliciting subscriptions and writing stories for the Northerner are the occupations of the following: Shirley Boedecker, Suzanne Buckner, Alice Carlson, Sally Ann Cruse, James Field, Mary Julia Gottschalk, Virginia McGahey, Jeanne McGill, Frances Moyer, Jack Neff, Doris Ostrander, Nancy Saylor, Sheila Schomp, Barbara Sprunger, Mary Whinery, Mary Williamson, Dorothy Winje, Loretta Worden, and Donald Zollinger.

Row Two: John Schneider, Margaret Schaaf, Georgia Scott, Norma Self, Mary Sellers

Top to Bottom: Surrounding Jim Tetlow, secretary-treasurer of the freshman class, are Suzanne Buckner and Joan Leighty. Suzanne spends most of her time in training choir and working on The Northerner while Joan solicits subscriptions for The Northerner and The Legend. Following in their brothers' footsteps are Bill Hinga and Jack Neff. Bill hopes to be a varsity basketball player and Jack is an officer of his class. He has a right to that smile. Ash Hawk, wonder boy of the track team. Sitting peacefully in the grass is another one of the McGaheys. That's right, this one is Virginia, who spends her time in the Legend, Northerner, and music rooms. Holding on to the guy wire of the telephone pole is Sheila Schomp. Sheila is one of the Northerner's best feature writers. These two little gals are Sally Cruse and Nancy Saylor. These tired but smiling lads are none other than social chairman Jim Field and Jack VandenBerg, Ginny's brother. Another younger brother, this time Dave Benninghoff, president. The girl, of course, is Phyllis Holman.

Democratically Ruled; We Choose 'Em

By VIRGINIA VANDENBERG

To work for a better school organization and spirit, North Side's board of mediators, the Student Council, maintains a close contact between the faculty and the student body and provides the students with a means of participating in the government of the school. This body is made up of representatives from the home rooms, members from all of the clubs, and the presidents of the respective classes.

Courtesy Week was sponsored by the council from March 10 to 14. Dave Saylor served as chairman of this week devoted to developing courtesy club room, participating in the games in the girls' gym, and by attending the dance in the school cafeteria. Plans for the day were made by Robert Young and his assistant committee heads, Fahma North, Patsy Bane, Kathleen McNamara, and Jean Stiffler.

The programs for the Armistice Day and Memorial Day assemblies were arranged by Virginia Groth.

Members of the organization ushered at Back-to-School Night on November 13. The Christmas tree which was purchased by the Parent-Teachers' Association was decorated by a group headed by Joy Ellen Stahn.

Junior High Day was managed by the Student Council in May. At this time eighth graders of Forest Park, Franklin, and parochial schools visited North Side and were taken on a tour of the school by the council members.

A new service of the Student Council was the opening of the club room the fifth period for pupils who lunched at school. Table games were played. Students talked and listened to the record player and radio. Miss Marie Miller had charge of the room and was assisted by student hosts and hostesses.

Other projects of the group included the attempts to arouse more school spirit, to improve the cheering section, to improve the conduct at assemblies, and to distribute traffic between classes more evenly.

The officers of the club for the past year were Robert Young, president; Dave Saylor, vice-president; and Virginia Vandenberg, secretary. Although the majority of the work was done independently by the students, Miss Victoria Gross and Mr. Milton H. Northrop served as the advisers and guides of the club's activities.

in the student body. The week's program included a movie, a courtesy assembly, and talks over the loud speaker system during the home room period. Members of the Courtesy Week committee were Virginia Groth, Marilyn Whiteley, and Joy Ellen Stahn.

To urge the formation of new friendships, "Get Acquainted Day" was held on February 7. In the periods between classes students obtained signatures on tags, and after school they further cemented friendships by playing table games in the

"We Serve". These two words mean a great deal to thousands of Red Cross workers all over the world. To North Side's Junior Red Cross, they mean an opportunity to help less fortunate human beings.

Our Junior Red Cross started the school year by electing officers. For the first semester, they elected Drexel McKinney, president; Eileen Spuhler, vice-president; Betty Pressler, secretary. The second semester, they elected Marilyn Vachon, president; Gene Blaising, vice-president; Irene Buechner, secretary. Dorothy Swank and Joan Buesching were chosen as delegates to the downtown chapter, the first and second semesters respectively. The deep interest which its sponsors, Mrs. Maryann Chapman, Miss Hazel Plummer, Miss Judith Bowen, and Miss Marie Miller, have given to this organization is reflected in the progress it has made.

The Red Cross, continuing a custom begun a few years ago, sponsored an "Apple Day" and a "Potato Day" in order to secure these items to fill their Thanksgiving baskets for needy families. In connection with this, their annual food dance, the "Tin Can Hop", was held on November 15. The admission price was ten cents' worth of canned goods. Enough food was collected to fill twelve baskets.

On Back-to-School Night the organization presented an exhibition of their work.

Again the students of North Side were asked to cooperate with this group by bringing apples and oranges. This time it was to fill sixteen Christmas baskets. The members of the club attended a Christmas party to which they brought gifts to place in the baskets for the younger members of the families.

This organization is also one of the most active in the social field. They have sponsored two dances—a tea dance, "The Tin Can Hop" and a "Victory Dance". They also entertained the North Side students with two skating parties. Most of the proceeds from their dances and the two rink parties were used in helping others.

Many of the club's members worked during the year at the downtown offices of the American Red Cross.

This last semester, the members have all been busily knitting squares which will later be made into afghans for victims of floods, fires, and war.

Gene Blaising and Joan Buesching were sent as representatives of North Side to the National Red Cross Conference at Washington, D. C., from April 21 to 24. The three-day affair was highlighted by sight-seeing tours, speeches by outstanding national leaders, and several social functions. Lord Halifax, English ambassador to the United States, and Paul V. McNutt, head of the Social Security Administration, were among those who addressed the gathering.

The social events of the convention included a tea given by the Red Cross chapter in Washington and banquets for junior and senior members of the group.

Youth Faces the World Undismayed

By FAHMA NORTH and the class of 1941.

The parade of youth at North Side is presented in this, the 1941 Legend, as a lasting memory for the seniors and underclassmen. Under the direction of Miss Rowena Harvey, faculty adviser, we, the members of the staff, hope to live up to the high standards of previous yearbooks.

The Legend staff, consisting of seniors, who were willing to devote their time and effort to writing the club stories were Virginia Vandenberg, Art Aiken, Bob Wiebke, Frances McGahey, Kenny Young, Bob Richard, Gordon Miller, Margaret Adams, Joann Wehrenberg, Charles Perine, Joan Buesching, James Graham, Stan Prince, Marilyn Whiteley, Bob Douglass, Eileen Roth, Harold Martin, Louann Gallmeier, Charlotte Lewis, Maxine Carmer, and Jeanne Ringle.

Not to be forgotten are the senior and underclass home room agents and the co-circulation managers, Louann Gallmeier and Maxine Carmer, who worked diligently to get the subscriptions without which a year book would be a failure.

One of the necessary parts of any book are the pictures. This task was well taken care of by photographers Bob Douglass, Hazen Keyser, and Ralph Cobb.

Credit is also due to the class editors for their class stories. This year's editors

We are the youth in a war crazed world, a world in which the majority of the people are oppressed and broken in soul. The future to those that are weak looks like a precipice from which they must leap into blind space. But those of us that are strong face the world with an optimistic viewpoint, and we are ready to accept the challenge that life has prepared for us. We are willing to do our part to make the world a better place in which to live and to prepare the way for future generations that are to carry on the work that we have started.

We are not to blame for the situation of the world. This was started before we were able to correct man's evils. But we will be to blame if life, now that we are a part of the influential body, continues without any social readjustments.

We the class of 1941 dedicate our Legend to the youth of America that is eager to accept the world in the condition it is in and is ready to do its part in keeping this country free of oppression. To the generation before us that has struggled so hard for us, we say, "Do not fear for youth, for only in America today does youth go on undismayed."

Serving North Side by printing, the news and features, The Northerner staff is made up of approximately one hundred students who keep the presses rolling by their efforts.

The highest award received by the paper in the fall was the International Honor Rating from Quill and Scroll. A medalist rating, which is the highest award given by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, was awarded to the Northerner in March. In April the highest National Scholastic Press Association rating, All-American, was bestowed on the paper.

With the Press

Breaking all previous records, the circulation staff, headed by June McGill, obtained 1098 subscriptions in the January campaign. With a subscription per cent of sixty-two and one-half, North Side won the circulation cup for the sixteenth time.

Individual journalism honors were obtained by James Benninghoff and Stanley Prince, who received honorable mention in feature and editorial writing and sports writing, respectively, in the International Quill and Scroll contest.

The Redskin journalists attended two conventions during the school year. Fahma North and Virginia Vandenberg attended the National Scholastic Press Association Convention at Cleveland in December; those who went with Miss Harvey to New York in March to attend the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Convention are Frances McGahey, James Benninghoff, Arthur Aiken, Robert Richard, Fahma North, and Virginia Vandenberg. In April, Bob Thornhill and Virginia Vandenberg spoke at the Journalism Field Day gathering at Butler University.

Miss Rowena Harvey made all the year's achievements possible by her capable leadership. Publishers during the year in the order of their terms were Virginia Vandenberg, Arthur Aiken, James Benninghoff, Frances McGahey, and Robert Richard. Arthur Aiken had charge of the Baby Northerner, which came out on "Back-to-school Night", and Jane Evans and Robert Cowan were co-publishers of the April Fool issue.

Other major staff members were Jeanne Tobias, editor; Margaret Adams, star reporter; Arlene Baltzli, copy editor; Charles Perrine, feature editor; Stanley Prince, sports editor; Marilyn Whiteley, girls' sports editor; Robert Thornhill, business manager; Helen Franke, advertising manager; and June McGill, circulation manager.

As a reward for creative efforts and constructive contributions to the Journalism Department, Quill and Scroll, international honorary society for high school journalists, has claimed as members nineteen Redskins who have been outstanding in Northern and Legend work during the past year.

These students, graduating seniors in the upper third of their class, were so honored by Miss Rowena Harvey, faculty adviser, for the merit of their work on the publication staffs.

As his reward, each member received a certificate of membership in the society and a year's subscription to Quill and Scroll magazine, as well as the gold Quill and Scroll pin showing a quill pen and a scroll, emblems of writing from its earliest history.

However, as the backbone of all work on the Points are awarded on the basis of work done on the publications, and upon attaining 1500 points, a scribe becomes a member. The limit of his goal is not set here, though, for a silver pin may be had for 3000 points, and a gold pin for 5000.

The highest pin is the gold-jeweled pin—a gold pin set with a ruby—and is given for securing 10,000 points. At the time of this writing, those who possess this coveted award are Jim Benninghoff, Art Aiken, Bob Richard, Virginia VandenBerg, Fahma North, Bob Thornhill, Frances McGahey, and John Rousseau.

The Little Men That Come Around

By CHARLOTTE LEWIS

"Yippee," cry the never downcast Booster sellers, "we've sold fifty cases of cokes, eighty big cartons of ice cream, and our candy and gum are almost sold out."

This is a typical comment heard in the North Side Booster Room after a busy game. For Boosters, you see, are the group of loyal North Siders who devote time and energy for the purpose of improving school spirit, conducting good pep sessions, and selling confectioneries at an alarming rate of speed.

The cheerleaders are an integral part of this organization—they are the m. c.'s of the pep sessions, the directors of the yelling at games, and they usually can be depended upon whenever a lusty cheer is needed. Norm Krieg, John Walker, and Bob Jackson are the three varsity leaders. Bob Dellinger, Jack Lusk, Fred Brown, Bill McConnell, Dorsey Moss, and Don Meeks also lead cheering.

This year a tumbler, Harold Towsley, became a member of the cheerleading group. For the first semester Raon Stephenson served as pep session chairman, and second semester, Joan Wehrenberg.

Booster Club is probably the largest club at North Side, for it boasts of over 120 members. During the first semester Charlotte Lewis served as president, Gloria Burbank, secretary, and Jeanne Ringle as point recorder. For the second semester Joy Ellen Stahn was president; Jeanne Ringle, secretary; and Phid DeHaven, point recorder. Dave Saylor is to be commended for his excellent work as business manager—a position in which he has served for the past two semesters. Helen Becker served as chairman of decorations for the entire year.

Miss Rothenberger, Miss Bowen, and Mr. Lightle were the club's advisers.

These Boys Are Hi Y'd and Handsome

By BOB WIEBKE

This club, being organized for boys only, holds a prominent place in the extra-curricular activities of North Side High School. The first club was organized by a teacher in Chapman, Kansas, over fifty years ago. The purpose of the club which has survived for over fifty years, is the same as it was then, "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian Character." The slogan of this club is the Four C's which represent Clean Living, Clean Speech, Clean Sports, and Clean Scholarship and all members strive to make this their model for good citizenship.

Any Thursday evening during school months, this group of boys may be found at the Fort Wayne YMCA building. Here, they have the privilege of using the recreation room until about 7:30 o'clock at which time they are called together for the regular business meeting. When the business at hand has been settled, the program of the evening is introduced.

Each program is in charge of a different committee. In this way, many varieties of programs are presented. The programs can be divided into three types. They have speakers, industrial trips, and programs presented by their own members. Among the speakers Hi-Y has heard this year was the Rev. Howard Brown of the Forest Park Methodist Church, who spoke on "A Flying Machine." Another interesting speaker of the year was Paul Southern of the Lincoln Life Insurance Company, who spoke on "Lincoln's Life in Indiana." For the third speaker of the year, Mr. Ashley of Central High School gave a talk on "Boy and Girl Relations." The industrial trips included a trip to Bursley's Wholesale Company and to the Joslyn Steel Mill. The programs presented by the members also proved both interesting and valuable. Mr. Virgil Herring, the adviser, led a discussion on parliamentary law and on courtesy for boys. The program on courtesy was demonstrated by skits and talks given by the members. There were two groups of pictures during the last year, one being on the present world war and the other being on health for young men.

Two meetings of every year are called for social activities only. A wiener bake was held last fall which was attended by the members and their friends. Another "special event" in the lives of the Hi-Y boys was the potluck held at Christmas time. Those two events were for the members and their friends, but they also sponsored a dance after the Whiting and North Side football game.

For the first semester the following officers were chosen: President, Bob Wiebke; vice-president, Louis Staak; treasurer, Bob Ferguson; secretary, Charles Lord; and sergeant-at-arms, Wayne Matter. The boys who led the club for the second semester were: President, Louis Staak; vice-president, Ralph Hess; treasurer, Bill Ferguson; secretary, Don Leininger; and sergeant-at-arms, Ed Blair.

The officers, adviser, and members are all striving to attain the goal set forth in their slogan, the Four C's, and in doing so are aiding not only themselves but the other members of the school in educational matters as well as spiritual matters.

Artificers Paint Pretty Pitchers

By FRANCES McGAHEY

After the havoc of this period has been cleared away, the world will need a trained group to make the world a more beautiful place in which to live to heal up the minds hurt by strife. Under the guidance of its sponsors, Miss Gertrude Zook and Miss Bernice Sinclair, the Art Club experienced another year full of interesting and educational activities that will fit them for their place in making coming years happier for everyone.

As all good organizations do, the Art Club opened its season with a business meeting at which the officers were elected for the year. Dale White was chosen president; Jim Whitehurst, vice president; Vanise Boyer, secretary; and Doris Henschen, treasurer. Committees for the year were also selected at this time. Elaine Crosby and Bill Richardson were put in charge of membership, and Dorothy Slagle was appointed social chairman. The club's publicity was taken care of by Ed Blair, and Phyllis Hardy headed the ways and means committee.

First event on the social program, which was planned by James McBride, was a trip to Somerset by the members. There they visited an art exhibit of the works of Mr. Homer Davisson, art instructor at the Fort Wayne Art School. Miss Agnes Pate was the speaker at the third meeting of the organization. Her topic was on "Alaska."

As the result of a contest to increase enrollment in the club, a Christmas party was held. For the competition members of the club were divided into two opposing teams, the Rembrandts and the Raphaelites. The latter crew, having been defeated, was required to give the party for the rest of the members. Freshman students were entertained at a party the fifth meeting of the semester.

Student speakers presented a program before the group at the meeting March 27. A talk concerning flower arrangements was given by Charlotte Lewis, and Bill

Richardson and Betty Pontius gave an illustrated speech on color.

Climax of the season was a banquet, "Tropical Waters," which was held at the Y.M.C.A. Thirty attended the affair. Instead of the annual dance, the members of the Art Club decided to sell fall bouquets and Christmas cards. Dale White and Phyllis Hardy were in charge of the projects.

During the latter part of the semester, a branch of the Art Club was formed under the direction of Miss Bernice Sinclair. The group, the "Rambling Rembrandts," is composed of students who wish to obtain actual experience in sketching. Requirements for membership are one year of art instruction in school and a grade of B or over.

Doris Henschen was chosen chairman of the sketchers, and a program and scouting committee was appointed. The members visited various commercial art studios, including those of Mr. Louis Bonsib and Mr. Homer Davisson. They also toured the Fort Wayne Engraving Company, and made several sketching excursions to the country.

Both of these organizations aim to give students better appreciation of art and to prepare them for serious study in the field after graduation from school.

Beat It Out With Orchestra or Band

By BOB WIEBKE

Music is valuable in a confused world, to give solace to sorrow, encouragement to dejected minds, stimulus to endeavors, and relaxation to tired bodies. With this thought in mind, let us take a glimpse into our music department. Our department is under the very able direction of Mr. Varner M. Chance. Over four hundred pupils are members of either band, orchestra, A Cappella choir, chorus, or music appreciation classes. Of the four hundred members, about one-third play musical instruments. We have in our school three instrumental divisions. First and probably the best known is the band.

The band is a well balanced group of about fifty members. It is used both as a concert and a marching unit. During the past year it has mastered such famous compositions as "Arabian Nights", "Entrance and March of the Peers", and the "Finale of the New World Symphony".

Three concerts were presented; one was part of the regular concert series, the second was given for the P.T. A., and the third at Rome City. All were received with admiration.

As a marching unit, the band demonstrated its skill at football games and provided musical entertainment for both football and basketball games. Then, too, each year it journeys to Van Wert, Ohio, where it participates in the annual Peony Festival parade.

Another division is the orchestra. It too proved its superior ability in the past year. The annual concert was given in January, at which time such famous compositions as "Merchant of Venice", with its "Oriental March" and "Doges" were played with unusual skill. The guest soloist of this concert was Ivan Warble, a violinist and graduate of Arthur Jordan Conservatory of Music who played "Legende". The orchestra also provided the music for the operetta "Rosamunde". Its final appearance of the year is for the Commencement Day exercises.

The third group is the training band. This band was organized for the purpose of helping beginners and preparing them for the time when there would be an opening in the regular band. When they have proved their abilities, they are promoted to the ranks of the regular band.

Another addition to the department this year is the flag twirlers. With the baton twirlers, they marched with the band, and together they gave a beautiful and brilliant display of twirling. They marched on the football field for every game to entertain the spectators and gave performances at the basketball games which won them much praise. They also went with the band to Van Wert, and participated in the Peony Day activities there.

Now let us glance into the other divisions. The A Cappella Choir is made up of advanced singers and has become a well known group both in and near Fort Wayne. The chorus classes are for those pupils desirous of developing their voices. One of the most noteworthy groups is the class in music appreciation. Here the students study music history and theory. This is the basis for the cultural development of the student.

Each year the Music Department sponsors an aftergame dance. This year's dance, the "Musical Ball", was held after the South Side-North Side basketball game. Another interesting event which the department sponsored was the bringing of the Indiana University Concert Band to our stage for an assembly. It was received with great enthusiasm.

North Side owes its appreciation to Mr. Varner Chance and to the pupils who have worked so diligently during the last year for this excellent music department and the pleasure they have given the community.

Day by day, youth's appreciation of music is increasing. They like not only the so-called "swing music", but are also becoming interested in the works of Franz Schubert and other famous composers. They are beginning to realize that music, like a story, expresses the ideas and feelings of the author. While the story writer uses words, the writer of music uses harmony and tempo. They, too, can tell stories in music.

The appreciation is due largely to the stress being put on music in our schools and partly because of the youths themselves. They are beginning to inquire into the art and theory of music. They try to interpret the music of the different composers, and, in this manner, they learn to understand the meaning of their works.

Music is not an expensive hobby. In the past, musical training was expensive and only a few could afford it. Now, many institutions have been organized to provide musical training for many at a low cost. Two musical organizations which have been organized in Fort Wayne are the Civic Symphony and the Junior Civic Symphony. The qualifications for membership in these organizations are instrumental ability and a sincere desire to broaden one's training. Several members from our own music department are affiliated with these groups.

Melody Floats on Waves of Song

By EILEEN ROTH

As the regular vibrations of their voices echo back to us from the walls of the corridors, the A Cappella choir under the direction of Varner M. Chance prepares to entertain the student body or some civic group of Fort Wayne. Because of its increasing popularity, the choir enjoyed a very busy season, giving approximately sixty concerts.

A musical presentation for the members of Kiwanis Club on November 5 was the organization's first important event. Following closely was a recital of the combined choirs of North Side at the general session of the Indiana State Teachers Convention which was held on November 6 at the Shrine auditorium. On November 7, the choir was the guest of the State Convention of Superintendents.

Christmas found the club ready to carry out a program designed to increase the spirit of fellowship and love throughout the city. The choir began the season early and their first presentation was December 3 at the Christmas meeting of the Wayne Pump Company. Other festivities during the season included a recital at the evening services of the Forest Park Methodist Church on December 15 and a musical presentation for the Christmas meeting of the Lions Club on December 18. The privilege of singing at the Lincoln Tower was again extended to the choir on December 17. December 19 the choir presented incidental music for our annual Christmas play and on the following day, December 20, the combined A Cappella, training choir, band, and orchestra gave for the student body a program of Christmas music in which the students were asked to take part in the singing of the beloved Yuletide songs. This program inspired us with the true spirit of Christmas and made a deep impression on each student and faculty member.

In January the choir gave three concerts. One was held at the city wide meeting of the Parent-

Teachers Association and the other two were given at the West Creighton Avenue and the Crescent Avenue Churches.

February 28 the choir was honored by the famed Helen Keller. Although blind, deaf and dumb, she was able to direct the choir in the singing of "Bless Thou the Lord", which she requested, and "An Evening Prayer" and "Nearer My God to Thee".

"Rosamunde", by Schubert, was the operetta selected for this year and proved to be one of the best ever given at North Side. The leading roles were taken by Patricia Van Horn, Don Meeks, Jeanne Schaffhauser, Guy Kaiser, Esther McComb, Don MacPherson, Evelyn Pennington, Leslie Sharp, and Joe Wakeland.

April 25 the choir gave a concert at the Trinity English Lutheran Church and on May 18 they were invited to sing at the First Baptist Church.

The month of May found the choir at Claypool for a recital, and they were also very busy working on the annual spring festival. Mr. Clarence Loomis, composer of the Stephen Foster opera which played at the New York World's Fair for two years, was a guest at the Spring Festival.

The Actors Behind the Footlights

By HAROLD MARTIN

The Student Players Club, founded to create and develop students' interest in drama, does so by staging plays at monthly meetings before the club members and before the student body on certain occasions. Miss Margery Suter, club adviser, casts the plays and directs the actors, stage settings, lighting, and costuming.

The first major activity of the club was the presentation of two one-act plays, "Red Carnations" and "Two Plus Two". "Red Carnations" concerned a meeting in the park which was amusing because the two gentlemen, Jim Benninghoff and Harold Martin, seemed to have a date with the same girl, Joan Closs. The situation was straightened out, however, after one of the gentlemen revealed himself as the girl's father, who came to chaperone the pair. The other play was a delightful comedy demonstrating how nearly alike two married couples can be in one of their quarrels. The success of the play may be credited to the actors, Pat Malone, Pat VanHorn, Charles Collins, and Deane Kreachbaum, who demonstrated good acting ability.

The Christmas season brought forth two plays instead of the usual one. The first was entitled "Faith and Works"; the other, "Beau Nash". "Faith and Works" was a play of mood showing the faith of the early frontier preacher, Harold Martin, and his wife, Pat Malone, when their little daughter, Joy Bair, had been taken to a hostile Indian camp to spend the day with Chief Logan, Bob Wiebke, a friend of the minister. "Beau Nash", with Charles Collins in the leading role, portrayed Christmas night "when old loves return". Margaret Ann Fellows portrayed Beau Nash's love, and Jeanne Ringle took the part of the maid.

The Senior Play, "Young April", broke all records of attendance and acting ability. The play was a humorous portrayal of life after adolescence and its hardships.

Margaret Ann Fellows and Charles Collins, as Terry and George, took the leading parts in the play and presented an excellent performance. Credit is also due to the acting ability of Patricia Malone, who portrayed the mother. Other actors who helped make the play a success are Virginia Groth, Patricia VanHorn, Joy Ellen Stahn, Joan Closs, Jean Ringle, Gloria Burbank, Barbara Schneider, Deane Kreachbaum, Harold Martin, Dick Brudi, Jim Benninghoff, Bob Huff, and Bob Wiebke.

However polished an actor may be, the play could not be a success without ample stage settings and lighting, for which the actors owe credit to the stage crew and light crew.

Study Puzzle With Mislaid Pieces

By LOUANN GALLMEIER

The Geography Council, under the capable direction of Mr. Frederick Breeze, has been very successful in its endeavors during the past year.

Mr. Breeze has just completed a five-year term as a member of the Board of Directors of the Indiana Junior Academy of Science and is now a member of the Committee of the Indiana Academy of Science, which directs the activities of the junior organization.

The Geography Council has been affiliated with the Junior Academy of Science since 1932. This club was the first of the Fort Wayne science clubs to become affiliated.

The chief purpose of the club is to carry on field work in the vicinity of Fort Wayne.

The officers of the Council during the first semester were: Adella Dunten, president; Laurine Archer, vice-president; Betty Elett, secretary-treasurer. The club elected the following officers for the second semester: Betty Elett, president; Germaine Rodenbeck, vice-president; Georgia Scott, secretary-treasurer. Betty Lou Scott was elected to represent the club in the Student Council throughout the year.

During November the club gave a skating party at Bell's Rink in conjunction with the Home Economics Club.

The club held a bake sale at Wolf & Dessauer in February.

One of the many projects of the club was a relief model of the region near North Conway, New Hampshire, made by Donald Bidwell and Richard Sieling.

The chief project of the club this year was the making of a contour map of the Fort Wayne region and a relief model of this area. This activity was carried out by the entire council. The region included in this map and model is of unusual interest to geographers and geologists. From New Haven, through Fort Wayne and extending southwestward to Huntington, is a valley that carries the overflow of a former glacial lake, known as Glacial Lake Maumee. About the same time the St. Joseph and St. Mary's Rivers were tributaries of the Wabash, and the waters of these two rivers followed the old valley by which the water from Glacial Lake Maumee reached the Wabash at Huntington. This valley, now abandoned, will be the chief feature of this model. These models will be exhibited at the next annual meeting of the Indiana Academy of Science, which will be held at DePauw University.

In the last few years many all-day trips have been taken to study the interesting geographic features in the vicinity of Fort Wayne. Two automobile trips have been taken to Hanging Rock, near Lagro, and to Seven Pillars along the Mississinewa near Peru. A trip to Huntington was taken for the purpose of collecting fossils in the limestone quarries near that city.

Several hikes have been taken to study the old channels by which the St. Marys and the St. Joseph Rivers at one time reached the Wabash River. Also many hikes have been made to observe the place where the feeder canal of the Wabash and the Erie Canal took water from the St. Joseph River. There may be seen the remnants of the old dam which diverted part of the water into the canal.

Thus progresses the Geography Council, youths for whom the world, in its great turmoil, will soon have great need.

Hungry Men, Be On Your Guard

By MAXINE CARMER

The girls of the Home Economics Club have reason to face the future with confidence, for they are preparing to become worthy homemakers, the chief aim of any girl. Since the girls will find the knowledge they acquire from this club's activities extremely useful in future years, the Home Economics Club has become one of the most important parts of high school extra-curricular activities.

The officers, who were elected last September, are Jean Goldsmith, president; Marcella Martin, vice-president; June Goldsmith, secretary; Neva Sheets, treasurer; Marjorie Linker, Student Council representative; Betty Bussing, social chairman; Neva Sheets and Marcella Martin, program chairmen; Virginia Till, publicity agent; and Jane Murphy, typist.

The club meetings are held every first and third Thursday of each month in the Home Ec Dept.

The theme for the club programs this year was "A club that shines". To carry out this theme, talks were given by various members.

Cosmetics and social etiquette were topics of discussion. The club holds a membership in the state and national Home Economics Associations.

Throughout the year many interesting programs were presented for the club members and their friends, among which was a skating party held on November 3. Marjorie Linker served as general chairman for the skate.

A potluck, given by the losing team for the winning team in a membership drive, proved to be of special interest. At the time the membership drive was being sponsored the girls had started a project to knit sweaters for the American Red Cross; consequently the rival teams were named "Yarn" and "Needles". June Nichter and Marcella Martin were named captains of the respective teams. The losing team, headed by June Nichter, entertained the winning team at the home of June and Jean Goldsmith.

The Christmas party not only featured a gift exchange among the members but also the distribution of gifts, brought by members, to poor children. Formal and informal initiation took place in what proved to be a beautiful and impressive ceremony. After the initiates had become full-fledged Home Economics members, lunch was served with Miss Agnes Pate and Miss Martha Beierlein, sponsors of the club, fulfilling the duties of hostesses.

In place of one of the meetings, the girls held a tea and style show at the Leisure Electric Home. The mothers of the club members were honored guests. Marcella Martin, vice-president, was in charge of the program.

The climax of the social activities was the annual banquet held in May. Guests at the banquet were the mothers of the members and the alumnae members of the previous year. The theme of the banquet was "Hospitality Beams". The president was toastmistress, and toasts were given by the officers. Miss Pate entertained with a delightful account of her Alaskan trip. Vocal solos were rendered by Betty Hedden and Mary Alice Baysinger and a piano solo by Billie Mae Crooks. A very enjoyable time was had by all.

The officers, capably assisted by Miss Pate and Miss Beierlein, have led the Home Economics Club through a very prosperous and successful year—may they have many more.

Come On, Joe; Hold That Pose

Anytime someone is roaming through the halls of this fair school and runs into the above scene, he will probably find its perpetrator to be some industrious and enterprising member of the North Side Camera Club.

A strong desire to delve into and learn more about the secrets of photography as well as to be of service to the school are the predominant aims of each member of this popular organization.

Miss Marian Bash serves as adviser of the club and directs all of its many and varied activities. She was capably aided throughout the entire year by the club officers who were as follows: President, Melvin Lehrman; vice-president, Ralph Cobb; secretary-treasurer, Helen Pappas.

One of the chief services performed by the Camera Club was aiding in the visual education of the school by the showing of films to the student body as a whole and to individual classes. These films were shown under the supervision of William Gresham, chief operator and technical adviser, and Jack Clark, film manager. The other members who served as operators during the year were Melvin Lehrman, James Gooley, Dorsey Moss, Richard Mommer, James Graham, Ralph Dunn, Delbert Auman, and Don Leininger.

These students are ready to go during their study periods to any class room where movies are to be shown, to take charge of the projectors. They see that the films are distributed and collected and that plans are made for showing the picture.

The chief concern of Dorsey Moss and Ernest Baade was seeing that the right teachers got the right slides at the right time. These two boys efficiently handled the position of co-slide managers.

The other important positions were student council representative, Patsy Bane; and dark room manager, Ralph Cobb.

In order to spur these camera enthusiasts on to greater achievements, awards of silver and gold pins in the shape of a camera with the bellows extended were offered. To receive a silver pin fifty points are necessary; for a gold pin, one hundred points are required.

Points are given for services rendered to the school, learning to develop and print films, taking good snapshots, making a dark room and enlargements, and taking part in other such club activities.

However, it was not all work for these photography fans, for they have successfully learned how to mix work and play.

On March 7, a skating party was held at Bell's Rink with Patsy Bane as general chairman of the affair.

On May 6, a very enjoyable time was had on a picture-taking hike.

On June 3, the last meeting of the year, the club held its annual picnic at which pins were awarded to the members who had earned sufficient points to merit them.

The club planned a series of feature pictures to raise funds for a new sound projector. The school's present sound machine started work for us as a second-hand outfit and must soon be replaced if we expect to continue sound movies. The first picture shown was the full length feature, "Elephant Boy."

Little Brothers Make Big Footsteps

By MARGARET ADAMS

As its fifth year of activity comes to a close, the Junior Forensic League leaves behind it a long and glowing trail of outstanding achievements. It is to the able and careful guidance of Miss Mary Howard, the adviser, that the Junior Forensic League owes its appreciation for its rapid growth and progress.

The object of the Junior Forensic League is to promote interest in speech work among freshmen and sophomores. One of its foremost principles is that no one appears in public without a carefully chosen and carefully prepared speech. The group works in harmony with and not in competition with any other outside activity. It is not an honorary society as is the National Forensic League, but is rather the "little brother" of this senior organization, for the latter's members at one time belonged to the Junior Forensic League.

The past year has proved an especially active one. Although many of the most promising members were graduated into the National Forensic League, the group has upheld its standards and has participated with honors in several important events.

The club was ably guided each term by its elected officers. Dick Curdes served as president throughout the first semester with Bob Leonard, vice-president, Joan Nieter, secretary-treasurer, and Sally Ann Cruse, historian, assisting him. During the second semester Bill Sandwick acted as president, Eugene Himmelstein as vice-president, Lois Rein-king as secretary-treasurer, and Dave Benninghoff as historian.

During the year these junior students of speech proved themselves not only able speakers before an audience but also excellent salesmen. Under the capable direction of Mr. Lippincott of the Curtis Publishing Company, the members of the Junior Forensic engaged in the sale of magazines. Through careful management and expert sales-manship, they were able to make more than enough profits to cover their expenses for the entire year.

The Junior Forensic League students have been active in all forms of speech work: debate, extemporaneous speaking, dramatic declamation, and oratory. In all of these divisions, the "small fry of speech" made such outstanding showings that no one need fear about the future excellence of the speech department of North Side.

Tom Johnson and Eugene Himmelstein were winners in the fall contest in original declamation. In the demonstration program on April 22, the freshmen were represented by Eugene Himmelstein and Bill Sandwick; the sophomores, by Ruth Schleuder and Tom Harris.

In the invitational speech meeting held at North Side in January, Norma Self ranked first in the inexperienced class in dramatic reading, and Eugene Himmelstein, also without experience, tied for first place in oratorical declamation.

The Junior Forensic was ably represented at a speech contest in Springfield, Ohio, by Dick Curdes, Tom Johnson, Carl Suedhoff, and Tom Deitschel. At the DePauw contest, Tom Johnson freshened his laurels.

Twenty-one members of Junior Forensic League competed at Wabash on April 5, and Eugene Himmelstein won the right to compete in the state finals.

My Friends, and I Know You Are...

By JEANNE RINGLE

The National Forensic League is an honorary society of North Side composed of those students who have made the greatest achievements in oratory, public speaking, and debating. The purpose of the organization is to promote good sportsmanship in competitive activities and to make improvements in all the phases of speech.

The North Side chapter has a membership of forty-two. Its officers for this year were Virginia Groth, president; Russell Cook, vice-president; Clarlynn Figel, secretary; Jeanne Ringle, historian; Joy Ellen Stahn, treasurer; and Fahma North, publicity manager.

The public speakers have had a very successful season under the direction of Mr. Loy C. Laney and Mr. Albert Coil. Jeanne Ringle acted as secretary and point recorder.

The debaters had a fairly good season competing in the N.F.L. Debate Tournament and going to the State Finals in the State Debate League. The varsity teams for the season were Wanda Coil and Jean Grimm supporting the affirmative, and Dan Benninghoff and Russell Cook supporting the negative. In addition to the varsity teams, these teams also participated in the Northeastern Indiana Conference: Don Swager and Charles Frie, affirmative; Carolyn Waterfall and Dorothy Doehrman, negative.

The State N.F.L. contest brought Margaret Ann Fellows a victory in Original Oratory and a second place to Pat Van Horn in Dramatic Reading. Other contestants in the N.F.L. contest were Virginia Groth, Oratorical Declamation; Pattie Malone, Oratorical Declamation and Dramatic Reading; Charles Perrine, Original Oratory; Joan Closs and Margaret Ann Fellows, Humorous Reading; Charles Frie, Extemp; and Tom Johnson, Extemp finalist.

This year North Side speakers again participated in the State Student Congress at DePauw University. The Senators were Carl Suedhoff, Dick Curdes, and Bob Leonard. The Representatives were Juanita Winner, who was elected to the National Congress; Bob Thornhill, Joy Ellen Stahn, Pat Thieme, Joan Buesching, and Miriam Waller. The secretary of the congress was Clarlynn Figel.

In city-wide competition Russell Cook ranked second in the Rotary Speech Contest; Tom Johnson, second in the Kiwanis Declamation Contest; and Margaret Ann Fellows, second in the American Legion Constitution Contest.

At the State Declamation contest held at Indiana University April 12, these Redskin orators participated in the various divisions: Virginia Groth and Eugene Himmelstein, Oratorical Declamation; Pattie Malone and Pat Van Horn, Dramatic Reading; Joan Closs and Margaret Ann Fellows, Humorous Reading; Martha Dell Bates and Clarlynn Figel, Poetry Reading; Russell Cook, Radio Announcing. Dan Benninghoff, Russell Cook, and Margaret Ann Fellows participated in the State Discussion Contest.

The biggest and greatest event of the season was the National Contest held at Lexington, Kentucky, April 27 to May 3. North Side was well represented in this meet.

Frozen Name, But Melted Hearts

By JOAN WEHRENBURG

"To find and give the best" is the purpose of this group of eager young women. Giving their all in service to their fellow beings has been the aim of the Polar-Y girls as long as the club has had a place in North Side extra-curricular activities. In facing life squarely these Polar-Y girls are trying to live up to the slogan and code of the Girl Reserves.

As the name of this club might indicate, one is likely to think that Polar-Y suggests something cold and frozen, but this organization is really made up of a group of charitable, warm-hearted girls with their principal aim being "service." The purpose of Polar-Y is promoting good feeling among themselves as well as stretching out their efforts in furthering good feeling among the less fortunate.

Polar-Y has always conducted various service projects. The service projects undertaken this year consisted of filling Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for the poor. Coloring eggs and filling Easter baskets for the children of needy families was engaged in this spring. Every year Polar-Y gives its complete support to the Needlework Guild. This year they donated three dozen hand-hemmed towels to the Needlework Guild in their plan to aid the unfortunate.

Throughout the first semester the Girl Reserves were under the capable direction of their president, Kathleen McNamara; vice-president, Betty Lou Hilpert; secretary, Barbara Boone; and treasurer, Martha Mathews.

An interesting membership campaign was conducted during the last semester between the two teams, the Greeks and the Trojans. Virginia Long was in charge of the Trojans, who won the membership drive. The Greeks, under the supervision of Juliet Moss, as a result of losing in the drive, treated the Trojans at a meeting of the club.

When installation for the newly elected spring semester officers was held, these girls filled the positions: Kathleen McNamara, president; Miriam Waller, vice-president; Betty Lou Hilpert, secretary; Barbara Boone, treasurer; Martha Mathews, chairman of the social committee; Betty Lou Wilkins, service chairman; Cleve Jane Byers, membership chairman; Eileen Worden, publicity; Phyllis Boegli, pianist; Vivian Westenfeld, music chairman; and Betty Jean Davis, point recorder.

On the social calendar for Polar-Y were such activities as a weiner bake, a dance, and a skating party. The weiner bake was given in the fall and was primarily for members. Everyone was invited to attend the dance that was sponsored by the North Side Girl Reserves after one of the football games. Bell's Rink was the scene of their annual skate. Besides these activities, Polar-Y, combined with the Girl Reserves of both Central and South Side, entertained many students at a dance after the Sectional basketball games.

All members thanked Miss Loraine Foster, Miss Geneva Burwell, and Miss Marie Ehle, faculty advisers, for their helpful guidance in carrying on their goal of service.

May We Present Miss Etty Kett

By MARGARET ADAMS

"Etty Kett, Bess and Susan Socks." "Mrs. Manners, may I present Mr. Blank?" By demonstrating this and other proper forms of introduction and correct manners during all occasions, the 400 Club is endeavoring to improve the courtesy of North Side students. Under the watchful eye of Miss Katharine Rothenberger, this club, the baby of extra-curricular activities, is fast rising to high prominence in the social world of North Side.

The purpose of the club is to make good manners easy and pleasant for North Side students and to answer any question of social etiquette that they might wish to ask. Therefore, in an effort to carry out this purpose, the 400 Club, in conjunction with the Student Council, again sponsored the annual Courtesy Week. During this week, seven secret sleuths took notes on the actions of North Side students. On the last day of the week, the most courteous and discourteous acts were announced to a student assembly. But the activities of the sleuths did not end there. Their identity remained a secret throughout the remainder of the year, and, during that time, they continued taking note of North Side manners. At the conclusion of the year on Recognition Day, a cup was awarded to the most courteous boy and the most courteous girl.

One of the subsidiary purposes of the club is to make people feel comfortable. In accordance with this purpose, a dance session, where members and their guests practice the terpsichorean art and overcome any timidity they might possess, is held after each meeting. The club is collecting its own dance records and soon its collection will be large enough to rival any in North Side.

An ordinary meeting of the club consists of first a business session, next a guest or a student speaker, then a time for discussion and questions, and finally dancing. Often during a meeting, members of the club emphasize the phase of etiquette with which they are dealing by presenting a skit on that subject. Miss Agnes Pate, Mr. Varner M. Chance, and Mr. David Hartley have been outstanding guest speakers during the past year.

In an effort to give members of the 400 Club an opportunity to make use of the proper rules which they have learned during the year, one meeting was held in the form of a luncheon in the cafeteria.

The 400 Club sponsored two social events during the past year. The first, a tea dance, was given October 19. The second activity was a skating party held on April 18. Both events were well attended.

The club has had two sets of officers during the past year, one for each semester. The first term, Maxine Carlin served as president; Marilyn Tibbitts, vice-president; Evelyn Thomas, secretary-treasurer; and Loretta Hutson, social chairman. During the second semester, the officers were president, Sylvia Wolf; vice-president, Lois Decker, secretary-treasurer, Mary Draggoo; and social chairman, Evelyn Thomas.

By trying to be themselves, the personification of perfect manners, the members of the 400 Club are endeavoring to improve the etiquette of all of North Side. In keeping with this idea, they post on the bulletin board, articles on the proper thing to do and when to do it.

Book Worms With Literary Talent

By CHARLES PERRINE

Seeking, not only entertainment and social activity but primarily, cultural advancement, the Helicon Club may truly be called "the club with a purpose!" Membership is not open to all; only those attaining high grades in English are invited.

Probably the most outstanding feature of the Helicon Club is the well-rounded field of activity offered to its members; a field which affords opportunity for improvement in social adaptability, in personality, in conversation, in public speaking, in understanding of moral truths and philosophical theories, and in general literary awareness. The members, advancing under the encouragement and guidance of the two faculty sponsors—Miss Huffman and Miss Greenwalt—exhibit an earnest desire for, and a great spirit of cooperation toward, a higher learning.

For the educational part of a program, a group of members review a number of good books which they have read, each individual in the group discussing one book; the entire program committee then enters upon a round table discussion of the books. At intervals throughout the year, the club is particularly fortunate in having a guest speaker, who heightens the interest of the program. As part of its social activity, the club makes at least one charitable contribution annually and has a number of social "get-togethers" each year.

Officers of the club for the spring semester were: President, Vernon Adams; vice-president, Wilm a Heuer; secretary, Shirley Jackson; treasurer, Larry Eberbach; social chairman, Melba and Mildred Heine; publicity chairman, Virginia Hofer; and critics, Deane Kreachbaum and Dorothy Deitschel.

Those who served as officers during the first semester are: President, Richard Brudi; vice-president, Deane Kreachbaum; secretary, Gloria Burbank; treasurer, Jean Ringle; social chairman, Shirley Jackson; publicity chairman, Charles Collins; and critics, Patricia Van Horn and Dorothy Deitschel.

Guest speakers for this year have been Mrs. Harry Hogan, who gave a review on the book "Random Harvest"; Mrs. Parke L. Kreachbaum, who spoke on the technique of writing poetry, ornamenting her talk with a number of her own poems; and Mrs. Charles M. Houser, who gave a talk on the literature of Mexico.

Among other outstanding events in this year's program were the "revival of Pilgrim's Progress", a study in appreciation of that great allegory; and the review, with partial dramatic readings, of "The Tree of Liberty", a novel by Elizabeth Page. The club gave gifts to the Allen County Orphan's Home during Christmas time, and held a party at June McGill's home in the season of Thanksgiving.

Yes, this has been a successful year for the Helicon Club. But for the Helicon Club,—that is not unusual!

By Their Scent Ye Shall Know Them

By BOB RICHARD AND GORDON MILLER

Perhaps the most "distinktive" club in the school, the Phy-Chem Club, has a wide reputation among the students of North Side as being the most chemically active organization in the school. Seriously, the Phy-Chem Club is recognized as one of the most active of the school's various extra-curricular groups. This fact is emphasized by the large number of students that take an active part in all of the club's programs. As in previous years, this year's club has reached a high degree of popularity with the Redskins.

During the first semester of the 1940-41 school year, the members of the club chose Bob Richard as their president. The club selected Deane Kreachbaum as vice-president and program chairman, Virginia Long as secretary, and Don Aiken as treasurer. The election for the second semester was held on January 14, and the Phy-Chemists selected Gordon Miller president. Other officers were Adeline Erb and Bob Stahn, vice-presidents; Dorothy Frie, secretary; and Bernard Frankenstein, treasurer.

The club is primarily interested in increasing the ability of its members to understand and apply the principles of every-day chemistry and physics. It gives students interested in science the chance to work together.

This year's annual Phy-Chem-Helicon dance, called "The Black Cat Ball", because of its proximity to Halloween, was held on Friday night, October 17.

Other activities engaged in throughout the year by the club were a Christmas party held on December 17, at which Dorothy Frie served as general chairman; a mouth wash sale to members which was planned to take the place of the usual spring skating party; a field trip to the Allied Mills on April 29; a senior picnic on May 27, in honor of the senior members of the club. At this picnic, the members made their own pop, had a weiner roast, and held a treasure hunt. Adeline Erb and Bob Stahn were in charge of this event.

During the year, many interesting speakers were obtained by the program committee. The first speaker was Mr. Hoot, of the Fort Wayne Filtration Plant, who gave a talk on water purification. Next on the schedule was Miss Pearl Brown, chief chemist at the Perfection Biscuit Company. The guest speaker for the month of February was Mr. Dave Driver, who presented a lecture on rocks and precious stones and displayed his collection. On March 25, Mr. T. A. Thorson, chief chemist at the Minnesota Linseed Oil and Paint Company, spoke on the manufacture of paint. The last speaker of the year was Mr. Norwood, head pharmacist at the Wayne Pharmacal Company.

Membership is open to students who have taken or are taking chemistry or physics. Meetings are held semi-monthly.

No more capable advisers can be found than Mr. Harold Thomas and Mr. Rolla Chambers, and it is through their efforts that the Phy-Chem Club is one of the most interesting and successful organizations at North Side.

Flirting With Ma Nature's Beauties

By JIM BENNINGHOFF AND GORDON MILLER

Our Nature Club, which is affiliated with the Indiana Junior Academy of Science, has developed an appreciation and interest in man's closest friend, nature.

Due to the many trips and activities of this club, its thirty members or more never find themselves losing interest in their work. A week end trip to McCormick Creek State Park, located in southern Indiana, was one of the club's two major trips throughout the year. Hikes, both long and short, cave exploring, and horseback riding were only a few of the activities enjoyed by the group on this lovely trip.

The second trip was to the Ball State Teachers College in Muncie, Indiana. Here they exhibited last year's yearbook and other nature exhibits. The yearbook consists of a summary of all the activities of the club for the whole year. Helen Wise was in charge of the club's yearbook for this year, and it was completed and sold to the members of the club the latter part of May. All the members contribute something to the yearbook.

About once every two weeks the club takes a hike in the territory surrounding the school.

Meetings for the group are held on the third Wednesday of every month, and the faculty advisers for the group, Mr. Howard Michaud and Miss Vesta Thompson, look forward with as much expectancy to the meetings as do the members. At these meetings all phases of nature are discussed, and the different members bring to the attention of the club the different projects on which they have been working. These projects include such things as collections of fossils, leaves, and other materials dealing with nature.

On the evening of December 7, after the North Side versus Riley of South Bend basketball game, the Nature Club sponsored the "Evergreen Glide" in the school's cafeteria. Sterling Keyser as general chairman of this dance assisted by some co-operative committees, made this dance a complete success. To carry out the theme of the dance the cafeteria was decorated with evergreen limbs, which produced a very pleasing effect.

The final activity for the year was a trip to Pokagon State Park located in northern Indiana.

present capacities throughout the year are as follows: President, Sterling Keyser; vice-president, Helen Wise; secretary, Phyllis Holle; treasurer, Tom Harris; chairman of program committee, Hazen Keyser.

To reward the members of the club for the work they have contributed, a point system is used whereby the members get a definite number of points for going on hikes, attending meetings, and for contributing information on nature to the members of the club. When a member has received 75 points, he receives a bronze pin; for 150 points, a silver pin; and for 300 points, a gold pin. These pins are in the shape of the state of Indiana, and a charm and guard are attached to the pin.

Those Gallant He-Men "N" Red

By JAMES GRAHAM

Men in Red is a true description of the members of the North Side Lettermen's Club. However, "Men 'N' Red" is a more nearly perfect description of the athletes that have gained admittance to that exclusive organization.

These students are identified by their red sweaters with white stripes around the sleeve and a large white "N" on the front.

The lettermen have previously been described as "Letter Carriers". They might also be called, "the boys that carry the Redskin banner on the field of battle". Letters are awarded in football, basketball, track, and cross country, the four major sports offered at North Side. The person who gains this coveted award must have given outstanding service in one of the aforementioned sports. The awards represent to many, years of hard work, training, and strenuous activity. Thus the Lettermen's Club has as its members veterans of many a foray into enemy territory for the glory of our dear old "Alma Mater."

On November 26 the club organized for the year, when new officers were elected. Bob Herber, one of the outstanding high school distance runners of the country and captain of the cross country team, was elected president.

Harry Roebuck, football letterman for two seasons and key man of the 1940 grid team, was elected vice-president and Bill Ranly, mighty mite of football and basketball fame, was selected secretary-treasurer.

The first project undertaken by the newly elected officers was the Lettermen's Dance. This social event, headed by General Chairman Bob Herber, proved to be a great success with the club earning enough money to sponsor the annual banquet.

That event was attended by a large group of both present and former members of the club. Many prominent personages were present, among them Noble Schlatter, who served as toastmaster, Bo McMillen, John Hackett, Ben Tenny, Bud Manth, Merle J. Abbett, Milton H. Northrop, Elvin Eyster, and the club advisers.

The lion's share of the credit for the success of the club's activities goes to the excellent advisers, Mr. Robert Nulf, Miss Julia Storr, and Mr. Rolla Chambers. Miss Storr is an English instructor, while Mr. Nulf divides his time between his gym classes and serving as football and basketball coach. Mr. Chambers acts as a track and cross-country coach as well as teacher of physics.

Cross country letters were the first ones awarded for this school year. At this time five boys were admitted to the organization. They are Jack Gibson, Peirce Flanders, Harry Hill, Don Swager, and Dave Bourke.

After football letters were given out, five more boys were members of the club. They are Ed Bell, Darrell Heaston, Jack Humbrecht, Virg Lombard, and Al Rossetter. All the basketball players who received letters were previous members of the club.

Champions -- No Less

By STAN PRINCE

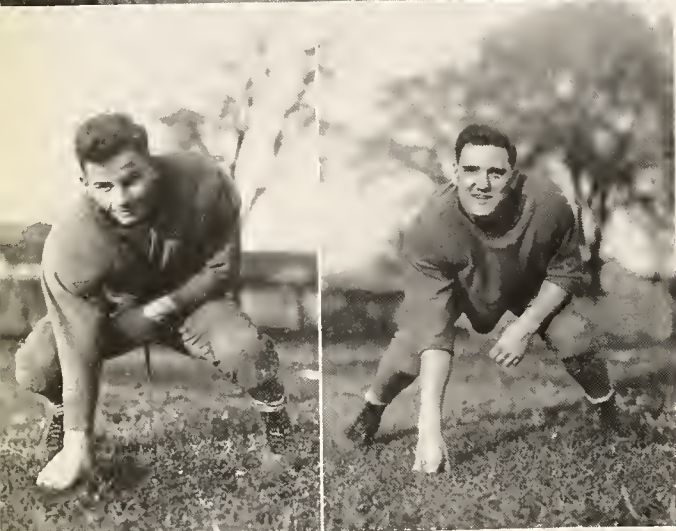

City Champs—but wait; at last, the Nulfmen had captured that mythical STATE championship in football which they had been on the verge of getting for the last two years. The Nulfmen, under the supervision of the two Nulf brothers, Bob, the chief, and George, the assistant, swept through a tough eight-game schedule with apparent ease and converted a dream into a real possession.

As the chill winds gave notice that the football season was nigh at hand, Coach Nulf, aided by more than twenty-seven boys who had had experience, rounded out a fair-sized eleven.

A "dream" backfield, as many sports writers called it, was developed around Bob Cowan, Bob Young, Mike Bojinoff, and Kay Short; and once these four started in high gear, it took a mighty fine eleven to stop them. The seven men on the line which opened up these holes for the backs to break through were as follows: Cornie Ervin, Virgil Lombard, Pat Barley, Harry Roebuck, Clarence Anspach, Byron Popp, and Jim Harrison. Many other capable substitutes appeared on the field. They were Jim Hinga, Herm Moyer, Bob Worley, Norm Oetting, Tom Brown, Ronnie Reese, Bill Ranly, and Jack Humbrecht.

North Side Athletic Field, September 27—The

Redskins, coming on the field with an all-veteran squad, carried off their first scalp as they won the first game in their quest for the city championship. They defeated a game Central Catholic eleven 50 to 0, and this marked them as the team to beat during the remaining season. Cowan and Bojinoff scored three touchdowns apiece, with Young adding one more late in the game. This was the sixth victory in a row for the Red and White .

South Side Athletic Field, October 4—It was little Red Sitko who practically spoiled the Redskins' perfect record, but Bob Cowan, all 'round star, came to the rescue and scored thirteen points to win by 13 to 7. Sitko grabbed the ball on the opening kickoff and scored several plays later, but the Red and White held possession of the ball after they had garnered the lead.

North Side Athletic Field, October 11—Playing like All-Americans during the entire game, the Nulfmen spoiled a perfect record of the Whiting Oilers by a score of 19 to 6. Bob Young paced the Redskins with twelve points with Bob Cowan adding another six-pointer. The Oilers were considered the pride of the state, and their defeat stressed the fact that the Redskins were the team to defeat.

Butler Bowl, Indianapolis, October 18—Remembering the defeat they were given two years ago, the North Side Redskins swept over a Cathedral eleven by a 19-to-0 score. Bob Cowan was the big gun as he scored twelve points, while Lombard scored the other one. This was the Redskins' fourth consecutive victory of the year and the ninth including those last year.

North Side Athletic Field, October 25 — The city championship was at last the Redskins' as they defeated Coach Gift's Green Archers 19 to 6. Bob Cowan, playing a fine all-round game, scored three times to pace his team. The Redskins at last held the city crown and now started looking forward to the three remaining games. Coach Gift was new at South Side, but his charges put up a game battle before bowing out.

North Side Athletic Field, November 1—Putting five complete teams on the gridiron, the Redskins ran roughshod over a weak Decatur squad by a 43-to-0 score. Cowan scored four touchdowns, while Young, Ranly, and Worley garnered one each. The score probably would have been more, but reserve teams played the last half and they battled on even terms throughout.

North Side Athletic Field, November 8—The Kokomo Wildcats came here in high spirits, but when they left they were on the short end of a 51-to-0 count. Cowan counted four times as he ran wild again. Young, Bojinoff, Ervin, and Reese each tallied one. The Wildcats were supposed to offer the Red and White competition, but after this game, the Redskins proved themselves worthy of praise.

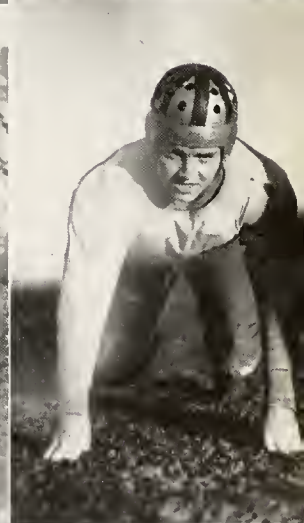

North Side Athletic Field, November 15—With a state crown hanging in the balance, the Redskins took the field against a tough Riley of South Bend eleven. After the final gun had barked, a 46-to-6 victory was in the palm of the State Champions, the North Side Redskins. Bob Cowan again ran wild as he scored five touchdowns and four extra points to make his total 155 for the year. This gave him the state scoring honors for the year and set a new record for the state.

Post Season.—The first state championship in the history of the school was at last here. North Side became the 1940 State champions in football. The entire Redskin eleven deserved and received great recognition for their outstanding achievement in their gridiron campaign. Bob Cowan, Byron Popp, and little Pat Barley received All-State recognition for their outstanding play during the entire season. They were also given All-City honors.

Little Pat Barley, commonly called the fifth man in the opposition's backfield, was given All-State honors because of his exceptional ability to drive in to stop many plays before they really started. In every game he could be found right in the middle of every play and he always got his share of tackles. Pat's lack of height proved to be a great asset because it enabled him to gain more speed and slip through the guards.

Top to bottom: No, he didn't have a stomach ache: Fullback Mike Bojinoff. Hold that line: Right End Jim Harrison. They won't get past this man: Guard Virgil Lombard. These three men also helped to keep North Side undefeated: Center Harry Roebuck, Tackle Clarence Anspach, Blocking Back Kay Short.

Big Byron Popp, tackle on the strong side of the Redskin line, never once left a scoring play get started, because he seemed to sense just exactly where each play was to get under way. He is a tall, heavy tackle who always was in on every play. He also aided in opening up holes in the opposition lines so our backs could run wild. He was also responsible for helping Cowan garner part of his 155 total for the season.

Bob Cowan, four-year all-round athlete, really came through when it was needed, and ever since the beginning of the year it was just a matter of time until he would be picked as the state's best. Cowan stole the whole show in the final game as he rang up 34 points to make his total 155 for the season. This is now on the state record, and since most teams are now tougher than they used to be, Cowan's record will undoubtedly remain untouched for years. Cornie Ervin, Virgil Lombard, Harry Roebuck, Pat Barley, Byron Popp, Clarence Anspach, and Jim Harrison were other fellows who helped make Cowan's record safe.

Following the heralding of the North Side Redskins as State Champs for 1940, many banquets, assemblies, and formal dinners were arranged in their honor. The first major celebration which was staged was sponsored by the faculty members. The dinner was held in the school cafeteria, and girls who had earned G.A.A. letters volunteered to serve.

The Lettermen's banquet was held next, and every member of North Side who had earned a letter in any sport paid additional tribute to the squad. Short speeches were given by all members of the team, and a good time was had by all.

The most outstanding gifts that this championship squad received were small gold footballs with "Champs" engraved on them. The varsity members were also given letter sweaters with small gold stars above the stripes signifying that they were proclaimed as state champions by all sports writers. Over twenty boys received letters in football during the 1940 campaign. Bob Nulf presented the football that was used in the Riley of South Bend game to Bob Cowan because of his exceptional all-round play. The ball was autographed by every member of the team.

Just One Short of State

By STAN PRINCE

North Side Gymnasium, Nov. 30.—The rip-roaring North Side Redskins opened a tough 20-game schedule with a 26-to-18 victory over the Masonic Home five. It was Bob Cowan and Jim Harrison who paced the Redskins in their first win of the new season.

North Side, Dec. 6.—Central came, they saw, but were conquered by the Redskins 30 to 25 to give the Redskins the first leg on the city crown which they shared with South last year.

North Side, Dec. 7.—South Bend brought one of their prize teams down but they left on the short end of a 30-to-21 score. Cowan again paced the Red and White with Cornie Ervin close behind.

Hammond, Dec. 14.—Hammond was taken into the fold 40 to 24. Cowan and Young were outstanding in play.

North Side, Dec. 20.—Failure to connect from anyplace spelled defeat for the Redskins at the hands of last year's state champs, Hammond Tech, 35 to 31. Jim Hinga, slender center, paced the Red.

South Bend, Dec. 27.—In a Christmas meet, the Redskins split even, winning over Mishawaka 37 to 28, and dropping one to South Bend Central 45 to 29.

North Side, Jan. 3.—The Redskins captured a second leg on the city crown as they defeated South Side 32 to 30. Young, Moyer, and Harrison scored highest.

North Side, Jan. 4.—Decatur, Illinois, traveled here to take home a 44-to-29 defeat. Jim Hinga and Bob Young took scoring honors.

North Side, Jan. 10.—Central Catholic entered the gym and left with a 45-to-24 defeat.

Nappanee Gymnasium, Jan. 11.—Nappanee fought gamely throughout the first half but they fell 47 to 30. Cowan scored 18 points, while Bill Ranly garnered 10.

North Side, Jan. 18.—A repeat victory was scored over the Mishawaka Cavemen. Cowan and Young again played outstandingly.

North Side, Feb. 14.—The Redskins got revenge, Hinga paved the way for the Redskins to possess the undisputed city crown. The Redskins won 42 to 41 over Central. Bob Cowan hit consistently.

South Side, Jan. 31.—The Redskins again were defeated 37 to 31 by the Archers.

North Side, Feb. 1.—Auburn suffered a 35-to-26 defeat.

North Side, Feb. 7.—Decatur was outplayed by the Red and White, 52-13.

Kendallville, Feb. 8.—The Comets were easy prey 36 to 18. Cowan and Popp paced the Redskins.

North Side, Feb. 14.—The Redskins got revenge 31 to 23, over Bluffton, who had won previously.

South Bend, Feb. 15.—The Redskins made it two out of three with the South Bend boys as they trimmed Washington 44 to 34.

Huntington Gym., Feb. 21.—The Redskins closed their regular season with a 29-to-25 defeat administered by the Vikings.

Redskin Gymnasium, Sectional Play.—North first ousted Huntertown 31 to 22. Woodburn was next by a 56-to-25 count, and then Columbia City 52 to 34 in the semi-final clash. It was a natural climax as the Central Tigers and North Side Redskins met in the final game. Central fell gallantly by the wayside 40 to 31. The entire Redskin team shared scoring and defensive honors. The Redskins won their first Sectional crown since 1932.

North Side Gymnasium, Regional Tournament.—Auburn left with a 40-to-16 defeat. North Side then ousted Pierceton 30 to 23 to advance to Muncie. Bob Young, guard, sprained his ankle in this clash, to end his tournament play.

Muncie Super Regional.—Muncie Burris, pre-tourney favorites, were eliminated 46 to 40 by the Redskins. Bob Cowan scored 21 points to lead his team to victory. The Kokomo Wildcats spoiled the Redskins' chances for a trip to State by a 41-to-32 defeat. The Redskins really deserved a lot of credit for their outstanding play.

Bob Cowan, Bob Young, Byron Popp, Norm Oetting, Herm Moyer, Bill Ranly, Ronnie Reese, Cornie Ervin, and Jim Harrison all graduate, but there are many coming back to form the nucleus for next year's squad.

From These Our Varsity Are Formed

By STAN PRINCE

Milton Northrop, Dave Hartley, Bob Sinks, Leslie Reeves, Bob Nulf, George Nulf, Hyrle Ivy, Rolla Chambers, and Virgil Herring are all members of our faculty who aid in making it possible for several hundred boys to compete in sports during their four years at North Side. They have charge of making up the football, basketball, and track schedules and many other minor sports in which boys are able to compete. They work under the title of North Side Athletic Board.

Basketball, following custom, was again heralded as the number one sport of the year with track and football following close behind in that order. Over five hundred boys competed in many different tournaments throughout the year.

The intramural program was opened for the year late in October when participation in volleyball was held. This was the first year that activity was included, and due to the newness, only sixteen boys took part. Dave Hartley was in charge.

Mr. Sinks had charge of the Leaders' Tournament, and Mr. Hartley had charge of both the Intramural Tournament and the Home Room Tournament.

The Leaders' Tournament opened intramural basketball in November, and again a team with the title of Sandy's Five emerged victorious. The team that was runner-up last year with the name of Golfus took over the "lucky name" and took the title. This makes the third consecutive year that the name, Sandy's Five, rode on victorious. They were hard pressed before they could overcome the Reds by an 11-to-9 score in the final game. Sandy's Five was comprised of Harvey Collins, Edmund Drake, Charles Beyhan, Jack Chandler, Edward Pfeiffer, Roy Korte, and Charles McAtee.

The Reds' aggregation consisted of Carl Moring, Frank Staley, Ward Staley, James Snook, Irvin Schecter, Allen Kwatnez, and Paul Trebra. Sandy's Five won the right to compete in the finals by ousting the Trojans 17 to 12. The Reds defeated the Cubs by an 18-to-9 score in their semi-final game.

A consolation tourney was held for all teams defeated in the first round of play in the Leaders' Tournament. The Archers were defeated by the Reds in their first game and then fought their way through to the championship of the consolation tourney. Members of the winning team are Bill Whiteley, Samuel Wass, Don Wolf, Paul Nieter, Mark Keefer, Paige Harper, and Bob Greim.

Mr. Hartley next announced that the Intramural Tournament would be staged. Boys weighing less than 125 pounds would be placed in the Midget League and boys over 125 pounds would be placed in the Senior and All-Star Leagues. There was a splendid total of seventeen teams entered in the three leagues with over 130 boys engaging in competition. The California lads defeated the Tigers 9 to 1, after a three-way tie had been played off, to capture honors in the Midget League. Ohio advanced into the final eliminations by advancing through the Senior League with a perfect record of five wins and no defeats. Sandy's Five, seemingly dominating everything, won the All-Star League by edging out a 13-to-12 victory over a powerful Hammond five. After Hammond Tech had been defeated by Sandy's squad, a playoff was arranged among Ohio, California and Sandy's.

Ohio engaged California in the first game. After a hard battle, Ohio downed the Midget League Champs. Inability to hit at the charity line cost the smaller boys the victory.

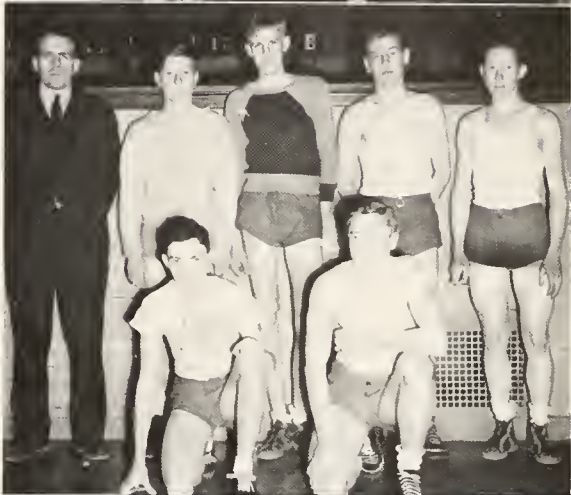

Immediately after this game, powerful Sandy's Five took on the Ohio team. Scoring almost at will, Sandy's severely drubbed their foe. Sandy's Five was comprised of Harvey Collins, Edward Pfeiffer, Charles McAtee, Dick Zwick, and Gene Houck. The Ohio team was made up of Hal Dole, Don Adams, Bob Comparet, Ray Chrzan, Robert Renner, and James Graham. Bill Whiteley led the scoring of the entire meet with 27 points, with Harvey Collins, Donald Adams, and James Mennewisch following in that order.

With 63 teams entered in the annual Home Room Tournament, Home Room 311 emerged victorious as a result of their 24-to-21 victory over Home Room 211.

Bob Nulf's cagers won the right to engage in the finals by taking the title in the fresh-soph league. In their semi-final game they defeated Miss Bowen's freshman home room 17 to 9. Room 311 won in the junior-senior league by a victory over Room 337, another junior home room.

Members of Miss Zook's championship team were Wayne Whisler, Bill Whiteley, Dean Vose, Mark Walters, and Donald Wolf. The runner-up team was composed of Dick Ummel, Gordon Smitley, Thurl Ulrey, Harold Towsley, and Dick Sieling.

Virgil Herring has charge of the tennis team at North Side and he always turns out a fine squad. The following boys have reported for practice: Ed Wyneken, Bob Stahn, Charles Frie, Dave Benninghoff, Ed Blair, Albert Cary, Dick Doerfler, James Gooley, Dick Hensler, Charles Lord, Melvin Lehman, Jack Lusk, Don Meeks, Jack Miles, Carl Penningroth, Bill Smiley and Ned Thompson.

Tracksters Covet Title

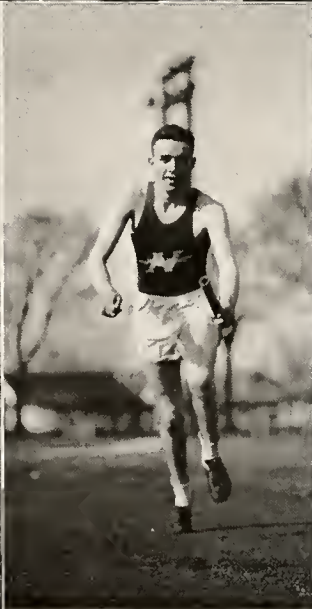

By BOB DOUGLASS

Led by Rolla P. Chambers, undoubtedly one of the best track coaches in the state, North Side's classy and experienced cinder pounders have proved themselves to be the best and most powerful track team ever produced at this school. By May 6, the Chambersmen have won ten consecutive victories, including the unofficial Indoor State championship, and have already gained recognition as one of the finest teams in the state.

Proof that this year's squad would be among the best was made evident last cross-country season by the Redskin harriers when they won each dual meet in which they were entered and wound up a close second in the N.I.C. meet last November.

The Redskins opened their indoor season on February 15 with an impressive 56-to-34 win over the freshman squad of Bowling Green State University of Ohio. Jim Snook paced the thinlies by capturing firsts in the high hurdles and quarter-mile, and by running on the first place mile relay.

A luckless Hammond aggregation was the next to fall 72 to 28 before the infallible North Siders. Mike Bojinoff led the attack by running on the winning half-mile relay and by capturing both hurdles, the 60-yard dash, and the broad jump. Bob Herber and Ash Hawk won their second runs of the season when they took the mile and half-mile. Other firsts were garnered by Tom Brown and Bob Douglass, in the high jump, and by both relays.

The first tough hurdle for the Redskins came in the form of the State Indoor meet at Notre Dame. Capturing eight first places, the Northerners tallied 54 points to displace Hammond as indoor champions. North Side firsts were captured by Bojinoff in the hurdles, Herber and Dave Saylor in the mile runs, Brown in the high jump, Bob Cowan in the 440, Hawk in the 880, and by the half-mile relay.

Culver's cadets suffered their second defeat in five years, both by North Side squads, when Bojinoff paced the Red to an impressive 70½ to 47½ win, by capturing firsts in both hurdles, the 40-yard dash, and by running on the winning 880 relay. Dick Biggs was a double winner, and Herber, Hawk, Cowan, and Brown were other first place winners for North Side.

Cowan took all three dashes and the broad jump to lead the North Siders to their first win of the outdoor season in a dual meet with South Side at the Archer's stadium. Bojinoff captured both hurdle events, and Herber, the mile, for the Redskins' other firsts in their 66-to-49 victory.

The Chambersmen continued their splendid undefeated season's record by downing Horace Mann of Gary in a dual meet at the Northern field by a score of 65 to 44. Cowan and Bojinoff were double winners for the Redskins, and Herber, Hawk, Brown, and Short, along with the winning relays, also took firsts.

The Red next took on a fair Garrett team here, and the Railroaders went back home with a top-heavy 88-to-29 loss on their shoulders. Cowan won the 220 and 440, and Bojinoff, Herber, Hawk, and Brown continued their fine records by garnering firsts in their specialties.

The North Siders piled up 72 points to dethrone Tech of Indianapolis as king of the Southport Relays. The Chambersmen set new records in the half-mile relay, mile relay, 100-yard dash, broad jump, and freshman half-mile relay. Cowan set two of the new marks, 10.3 in the century, and 20 feet, 7 inches in the broad jump. The Northmen also copped the medley relay, the shuttle hurdle relay, and the high hurdles.

Mishawaka gave the Redskins their ninth straight victory of the 1941 season, 70 to 39. Hawk won the mile run in 4:34.6, a time which excels the former freshman record by six seconds.

The Chambersmen's biggest worry of the season, excepting the state meet, was disposed of when the Red amassed 39½ points to set a new Kokomo Relays scoring record and to outpoint Hammond, last year's champion. Cowan lowered the current season's record in the 100-yard dash and ran the fastest race of his career in sprinting that distance in the excellent time of 10.1. He also took a second in the low hurdles and a third in the broad jump. Bojinoff ran the high hurdles in 15.4, the best time registered throughout the state during the season. Mike equaled the relays low hurdle record of 23.4 in the finals of that event. Douglass, Snook, Saylor, and Herber made up the winning medley relay, which turned out to be the only North Side quartet to capture a first. The half-mile and middle-distance relays took fourth positions, and the mile relay placed fifth. Brown entered a four-way tie for first in the high jump.

The Redskin harriers began their season by turning back Elkhart 27 to 32 for their twenty-fifth consecutive dual win. Bob Herber copped first and Bill Heller and Dave Saylor ran second and third for the Red.

A tough Culver team was the next to be downed by the North Siders, 15 to 40. Herber set a new Culver record of 9:50.6, with Heller and Saylor following in that order. The Chambersmen skimmed past Hammond by a 27 to 28 score.

After Emerson of Gary fell by the way, 25 to 34, the North Siders went to Gary to compete in the N.I.C. meet, in which they placed second. Herber, Saylor, Swager, Hill, and Gibson were the first five for North Side as they finished in the deep snow.

These Girls Are All American

A high minded and physically strong future generation will be needed to carry on the splendid work of our nation. One patriotic group here at North Side that is helping to develop the best in American womanhood is the Girls' Athletic Association, better known as the G.A.A. By their red sweaters with large white "N's", their mark of identification and "stamp of approval", one can locate these girls easily. Not only by their colors but also by their high ideals do these girls prove themselves to be All American.

Because of the untiring efforts of Miss Schwehn and Miss Spiegel, who was unable to attend school part of the year as she was recovering from a major operation, and of the officers, the club completed one of the most successful years in its history.

Those who held the titled positions as officers are Marilyn Whiteley, president; Betty Aker, vice-president; Dorothy Frie, secretary-treasurer; and Kathleen McNamara, point recorder, who was succeeded by Marjorie Lloyd.

The first date on the social calendar was the Freshman Get-Acquainted Party, which all new Freshman girls and any other girls interested in G.A.A. were invited to attend. Marilyn Whiteley officiated and Jean Arnold, Dorothy Frie, and Betty Aker were in charge of the games and refreshments. This event had as its purpose to promote better fellowship among the students that participate in athletics and to encourage more girls to engage in sports, as they will prove a great benefit to them in later life.

Volleyball and tennis were the major sports which were to keep the girls occupied for the next six weeks. At the close of the volleyball practice enough girls were chosen to form nine teams. The honored positions as captains were held by the following girls: Seniors, Marilyn Whiteley and Marjorie Lloyd; Juniors, Nata Prince, Ardenell Cowan, and Mildred Smith; Sophomores, Eleanor Cantrell and Martha Hughes; and Freshmen, Betty Mitchell and Donna Tibbits.

The tennis champions were chosen rather early in the season and in the Senior division Kathleen McNamara was defeated by Justine Coudret by a very small margin. Flora Gaff was the winner of the Junior division, while in the Sophomore division Dorothy Chandler defeated Gayle Scott, last year's winner of the Freshman division. Eleanor Cantrell was permitted to wear the crown of victory in the Freshman division this year, winning over Lila Lee Childers. Flora Gaff was able to mark up another win, when she and John Dellinger were declared winners of the mixed doubles.

All letter girls were given time out after a strenuous session to attend Play Day at Central High School on October 11. Games were played, after which a potluck supper was served. Each member enjoyed this informal gathering, since it gave her an opportunity to make new friends and to renew old acquaintances.

The Penny Carnival, which was held in the girls' gym and the cafeteria on November 29, was the next social activity of our own chapter. Kathleen McNamara was the general chairman; she was assisted by every member of the club. One of the highlights of the evening was the water carnival which was held in the swimming pool. After going from the topsy turvy show to the fortune telling booth and entering the games and watching the water carnival and then dancing in the cafeteria, everyone that attended felt that the Penny Carnival was one of the largest and the most successful events in the history of North Side. Hats off to Kathleen and her committees.

For relaxation after the carnival, the girls turned their attention to basketball and life saving. Much to the surprise of everyone, the Junior A team defeated the Senior B team and therefore was declared basketball champs.

December found the girls eager to make plans for their annual Christmas party for the needy pre-school children. The event was held on December 13 with Charlotte Drewett as general chairman. Ice cream and cake and gifts of clothing and toys were the outstanding features for the boys and girls.

Letter girls were invited to serve at the banquet given for the State Champion Football Team. Of course, the girls were only too glad to accept.

The important event of the year was the "Peace Pipe Prance" held after the Central-North Side game on January 24. Betty Aker and her committees deserve praise for their excellent management of this affair.

Following the annual initiation ceremony and pot-luck, of which Waneta Krieg was the general chairman, classes in folk dancing and tumbling started.

February 24 was the day on which awards were given for outstanding service. Numerals are given for 300 points, blocked "N's" for 600, and winged "N's" for 1000 points.

Two events brought the season to a close, Play Day on April 18 and the installation banquet in May.

Thus as the curtain falls on another year, we who are graduating wish the remaining girls "good luck", and to them we say, "Keep the ideals that have made the G.A.A. girls All American."
